BRIDGE OF PROTEST — Firing of three Golden Gate Bridge painters was protested by pickets yesterday on the span itself, on the 30th anniversary of its opening. The pickets grouped in front of a statue of bridge architect Joseph B. Straus to display their banners for an Associated Press photographer. The three men fired are grouped in the center. They are (from left) Paul Powell, James Wilkins and James Haugabook.

Egypt Says War Is Up To Israel

Russ Tell West To Intervene

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Egypt was reported today to have taken the position that it has achieved its objectives in its military confrontation with Israel and if there is to be war Israel will have to start it.

At the same time, the Soviet Union said it was up to the United States, Britain and other Western powers to restrain Israel.

A Soviet government spokesman said in Moscow the Kremlin has no doubts Egypt and Syria are doing their utmost to keep peace in the Middle East.

ISRAEL BLAMED

"Our understanding is that the source of tension is Israel," the spokesman said. "We believe it is for the United States, Britain and other Western powers to use their influence, to exert their influence on Israel to make it stop its provocations. This will be a real contribution to peace."

The Egyptian position was reported in the semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram by Mohamed Hassanian Heikal, who often reflects the political thinking of President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

CAIRO GOALS

Heikal wrote in a full-page editorial that Egypt had frustrated what he called an Israeli plan to attack Syria and had accomplished a blockade of Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

"Egypt finds itself compelled at this stage to stop at what it has accomplished so far, even if this means that we wait to receive a blow from Israel," Heikal wrote.

"Let Israel start. This will be followed by a second blow on our side which will be the death blow."

SHOOTING REPORT

At the same time, Associated Press Correspondent Hanns Neuerbourg reported from the Jordanian port of Aqaba at the head of the gulf that Egyptian antiaircraft guns apparently fired on two Israeli Mirage jet fighters from Egypt's side of the gulf. But the planes landed apparently undamaged at Elath, the Israeli port two miles across the bay from Aqaba.

In a related development, Foreign Secretary George Brown of Britain wound up talks with Soviet leaders and Moscow and said he found the Russians had "an urgent desire to defuse the situation" in the Middle East.

Brown said the Soviet leaders had been officially informed only last night of the French proposal for a joint peace effort by the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France.

He said it was too early to expect a Kremlin decision. It was understood by other Westerners in Moscow, however, that the Russians want to seek a solution independently. The Kremlin has lent moral support to the Arabs.

30,000 Expected At Tam 'Fantasy'

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

A two-day "happening" on Mount Tamalpais June 3 and 4 — planned to benefit the Hunters Point community in San Francisco — may create a massive problem for Marin County and for federal and state parks on the mountain.

The matter is of sufficient concern to bring Earl P. Hanson, deputy chief of the State Division of Beaches and Parks, from Sacramento today to confer with law enforcement officers and park rangers.

Hanson, in charge of planning and control for the division, was to meet at Tamalpais State Park headquarters at Pantol Camp with Chief Ranger T. F. Holmboe, Supt. Robert Hatch of the division's District 2 from Santa Rosa, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, California Highway Patrol Capt. T. F. Parnow, and sponsors of the show.

CROWDS EXPECTED

The benefit staged by station KFRC — called "Fantasy Fair and Magic Mountain Music Festival" — is expected to draw 30,000 "teenyboppers" and others to the mountain's amphitheater. Its 15,000 seats have been sold out for both days at $2 apiece.

"That will be in addition to the people ordinarily coming to the mountain on a weekend," Ranger Holmboe pointed out today.

Beyond the problem of traffic control and movement on the mountain's narrow roads, officials are faced with reported intention of many of the young people to take sleeping bags and camp on the mountain Saturday night between the two shows, which are scheduled from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. both days.

One mother told the Independent-Jodrnal that her 16-year-old son was insisting he be allowed to spend the night, because "everybody in my school is going." She said both boys and girls were planning on the huge camp-in. This disturbed her.

RULES STRESSED

Ranger Homboe said no uncontrolled camping in the state park is permitted. He added that even at the park's two camp sites there are strict rules for admission. He said: "Teen-agers under 18 must have a note of permission from parents, including the parents' name, address and home phone number. They must also be accompanied by a responsible adult."

Holmboe warned that any youth not meeting these conditions would be violating Marin County's curfew laws.

He also pointed out that the two camp sites, Pantol and Boot Jack camp, can accommodate a total of only 392 campers, who must register at park head-

Bridge Law Baffles Marin-Bound Trio

By DAVID DIETZ

An aging horse, a dog, and a young drifter who says he's part Indian — "but a happy one' '— formed a new saga today in the wacky world of Psychedelia.

The problem of 27-year-old Kent Grigg is this: To find proper transportation for himself and hairy companions across the Richmond-San Rafael bridge into Marin County. Pedestrians, including four legged beasts, are forbidden on the span.

A crossing attempt last Saturday flopped. The barefoot Grigg, who also indentifies himself as a former minister and Mexican traveler, loaded his 9-year-old quarter mare, Surprise ("She's the psychelelic wonder") into a moving van donated by a trucker who passed them on the bridge access in Richmond.

As the van lurched uphill, however, Surprise —swapped three weeks ago in the East Bay for a Mexican steed — found footing treacherous.

"She was sliding and slipping around back there and got cut up pretty bad," said Grigg, who finally asked the driver to stop, then the posse — er, Highway Patrol came by.

"They ordered us off the access road because no pedestrinas are permitted," Grigg said. He led his animals away disconsolately, settling on a deserted beach at Point Richmond.

"I'm still trying to get to Marin," Grigg, a native of Lafayette, said today by telephone from a Point Richmond restaurant. "I've met a lot of nice people from over there and I'd like to settle around Stinson Beach."

A lift, anyone?

Dr. Fort Loses Firing Appeal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The civil service has upheld the firing of Dr. Joel Fort from his $17,000-a-year post as director of the city's Center for Special problems.

The commission voted unanimously yesterday to reject the psychiatrist's request that his dismissal be reconsidered. Dr. Fort was not present at the hearing.

Dr. Fort, 37, a nationally known social psychiatrist, was fired by Dr. Ellis Sox, city health director, April 14 for "operating too independently."

Attorneys for Dr. Fort said that the decision would be appealed next week in Superior Court.

Picket Line Seeks Firing For Adam

Sixty pickets demonstrated at the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday to demand the firing of bridge Manager James Adam and reinstatement of three fired painters, two of them Negroes.

The pickets protested "30 years of employment discrimination" by bridge manages.

The demonstration was moved from the St. Francis Hotel, where bridge district officials had scheduled a luncheon commemorating the span's 30th anniversary. The fete was cancelled Wednesday to escape the picketing.

Led by representatives of the Painters Union and National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the pickets marched at noon midway on the span toward Marin County, then returned.

The painters, James Haugabook and Jimmie Lee Wilkins, and a white supporter, Paul Powell, were fired for alleged incompetence March 31.

Besides their reinstatement, the pickets demanded a public hearing on the dismissals and an investigation of alleged incompetence by the bridge management.

Pentagon Bares China Overflght

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U. S. Navy airplane may have inadvertently crossed into Communist China from North Vietnam today before returning safely to its carrier, the Pentagon announced.

The plane was on a mission against military targets in the vicinity of Kep, which is about 30 miles northeast of Hanoi, the announcement said.

One of North Vietnam's MIG fighter bases is at Kep, but the announcement said nothing about this. No other details were immediately disclosed.

It was the second recent case in which the United States said one of its planes may have unintentionally flown into China.

On May 15 the U. S. reported that an Air Force F105 had been struck by anti-aircraft fire during an attack on military targets in the Kep area, and may have crashed in China.

Deputy Foils Pair's Marijuana Farm Plan

By ROSS DAVIS

The effort of two youths with "green thumbs" to transplant their crop in Marin City was disrupted yesterday by a sheriff's officer.

The plants, said the non-appreciative deputy, John Forsdal, apparently are marijuana—about 400 of them. And he would like to discuss the project with the pair, except they fled the scene.

Deputy Forsdal said he was in a patrol car on a fire trail above 69 Cole Drive about 2 p.m. when he saw a movement of white in heavy thicket about 40 feet away.

Halting to investigate, he discovered the white was the shirt of one teen-ager. Seconds later, a second youth clad in black jacket and pants appeared. The officer, then afoot, worked his way to the thicket, he said, but lost the two youths.

What he found there were a large wooden box, two margarine boxes, and a half plastic jug, all containing plants from an inch to five inches tall. A watering can was nearby.

Deputy Forsdal, who confiscated the plants and containers, said the youths apparently were preparing to transplant their future marijuana crop from the containers into fertile ground of the bush area.

Kuchel Will 'Try To Be A Good Boy'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., conceded today he's "been a little too independent for some people" and promised "I'll try to be a good boy."

The Senate's assistant GOP leader made the half joking reference to his past disagreements with some Republicans in his home state after a meeting with Gov. Ronald Reagan in Reagan's office.

But in the main, Kuchel was intent on brushing aside questions of 1968 politics—when he is expected to seek another term. He refused to comment on Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Max Rafferty, who may oppose him in the June primary.

Kuchel, who refused to back Reagan last year or Barry Goldwater for President in 1964, said the Republican party "has come a long way since the tragedy of 1964."

He expressed confidence that the party will adopt a platform in the tradition of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and said he'd endorse anyone who would run of that platform.

U.S. Helps Feed Viet Military

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — The United States agreed today to help feed the families of South Vietnam's armed forces in the next year with a subsidy of $42 million worth of commodities to be sold them at greatly reduced prices.

Receipts from the sales will be used to build up the commisary system of the South Vietnamese armed forces, a spokesman for the U.S. Agency for International Development—AID—said.

In Saigon, opponents of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky charged that the commodities would be used to buy votes for Ky in the September presidential election.

Leathernecks Storm Red DMZ Fortress

SAIGON (UPI)—Thousands of U. S. Marines captured a Communist hilltop fortress in their second invasion of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and sent the survivors reeling into defeat today. In the Central Highland U. S. infantrymen shattered a vicious Red assault.

Red bereted North Vietnamese forces hit troops of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division with rockets, grenades and small-arms in the jungles near the Cambodian border and west of Pleiku. The Americans killed 92 —most of the attack force. The pany was lost, hower.)mr Americans lost seven dead, Saigon said. (Associated Press battlefield reports said up to half the U. S. company was lost, however.)

While Marines carried out twin sweeps through and south of the Demilitarized Zone heavy fighting broke out 18 miles north of Saigon during a South Vietnamese sweep. The Viet Cong hit eight U.S. helicopters, downing four and killing one crewman and wounding five others.

In the Central Highlands battle, a reinforced company of North Vietnamese pounced on U. S. 4th Division troopers strung out along jungle trails and killed all the officers in one company of the division's 8th Reginent.

Communist snipers poured gunfire from the trees on the Americans, before the infantrymen regrouped under non-coms and broke the trap.

A Marine multi-battalion force launched its attack into the DMZ yesterday and fought a vicious six-hour battle before routing Communist defenders and taking Hill 117, a North Vietnamese fortress from which the Communists fired mortars and rockets at the American border outposts.

The Leathernecks counted 84 dead Communists in the fighting. Marine officials said 14 Leathernecks were killed in the battle and another 119 wounded.

The Marines plunged back into the DMZ only hours after returning to their camp from Operation Hickory Nut, the first American operation in the DMZ.

The Marine attack yesterday and U. S. 7th warship Providence dueled with Communists artillery firing from the DMZ.

In the air war, U. S. jets bombed key railroad yards along the Red River in North Vietnam yesterday. Warplanes also again struck the Kien An Airfield, a giant MIG interceptor base near Haiphong.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Convicted Of Passing Secrets

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — An all-male federal jury has convicted a naturalized Air Force sergeant of conspiring to provide the Soviets with U.S. defense secrets.

The verdict could mean the death penalty for Staff Sgt. Herbert W. Boeckenhaupt, 24, a native of Germany.

The jury ended seven and one-half hours of deliberation — broken by an overnight recess — in delivering its verdict yesterday in the courtroom of Judge Oren R. Lewis.

Boeckenhaupt

It convicted Boeckenhaupt of conspiring to transmit defense secrets and also of conspiring to obtain national defense information illegally. The first offense can be punished by execution while the second carries a maximum 10-year prison term.

Lewis, who will impose the punishment, deferred sentencing pending a probationary report. He told Boeckenhaupt, "I want to help you, if I can, help you help yourself."

The young airman remained expressionless as the verdict was read. His 19-year-old wife, Sherry, closed her eyes and wept silently.

Boeckenhaupt's attorneys said they'd appeal the verdict.

SAFETY CATCH -6-YEAR-OLDS BEHIND WHEEL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California soon may be putting first-graders behind the wheel.

Russ Walton, assistant state transportation administrator, predicts the 6-year-olds may be zooming around the playground in their own tiny cars in driving safety training.

"We must motivate drivers with lifelong safety habits in the first grade or perhaps even in kindergarten," Walton said yesterday in addressing 6,000 delegates at an annual safety conference.

Humphrey Is Bouncy As Ever

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just two days away from turning 56, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says he's happy in his job, thankful for his good health and optimistic about the world's future.

Humphrey summoned reporters to an impromptu news conference yesterday in his Capitol Hill office and described his personal credo as:

"You always have to do what's right, regardless of whether people like it or not. That's what counts."

The vice president, pink-cheeked and bouncy as ever, said he feels as young and energetic as he did 10 years ago. His greatest personal desire, he said, is to be in as good health at age 57 as he is now.

"I'm a happy guy and I don't have any personal frustrations," he said, then added: "But in public life I'd like to see things get done faster" in the field of social legislation.

Responding to questions, Humphrey said there's increasing support among Americans for the Johnson administration's Vietnam policies.

"On Vietnam I have the feeling there now is less emotion and a little more of the attitude of 'here it is, here's what we have to deal with,'" said Humphrey. "The heat is going out of the issue."

Humphrey also spoke of rising public popularity for President Johnson. He said Johnsons' popularity hit a low last December, "But now I can see he's gaining."

House Passes Draft Law Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted to extend draft deferments of college undergraduates after a rowdy, late-night session where tempers flared and charges flew.

The controversial college deferment issue evoked the sharpest debate as the House voted 362 to 9 to extend for four years the existing military draft law, due to expire June 30.

The House-passed version clashes with a Senate bill that would give the President broad authority to revise draft policy. Another difference is the House's insistence that Congress have the final say over whether a lottery-style selection system can be used — as President Johnson desires.

DUE IN COMMITTEE

The differences must be resolved in a Senate-House conference committee.

One member after another denounced as disgraceful last night's proceedings, but the majority of those present — tired after a marathon session the night before — repeatedly voted to limit debate and shouted down amendments.

By the time Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., got the floor with his amendment to end student deferments, debate on the issue had been limited to one minute.

"This is a most disgraceful way to legislate on a bill of this importance," Pike told his colleagues.

POSTPONING RISKS

He said projecting current Vietnam war statistics would leave 48,000 U. S. dead in four years — a normal college undergraduate period. "In time of war there is no justification n saying to one group of citizens, the wealthier, they can postpone their risk of being one of the 48,000 dead."

Pike's amendment lost on a standing vote, 140 to 41.

Rep. Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J., said, "This is not a debate, it is a travesty, a burlesque. We are asking these young men to give up two years of their lives and we won't give them two days."

CAPT. EDWARD B. LEVY
Setback in trial

Army Trial's War Crime Defense Out

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Capt. Howard B. Levy's court-martial on charges of disobeying an order and promoting disloyalty boiled down today to questions of intent and ethics. Testimony of "war crimes" has been ruled out as a defense.

Levy, 30, a dermatologist from Brooklyn, N.Y., refused to carry out an order to set up a training program for U. S. Special Forces medics. His attorneys sought to prove the order was illegal because, they said, the combat-trained medics committed "war crimes."

"While there had been perhaps instances of needless brutality in Vietnam," the judge, Col. Earl W. Brown said yesterday, "My conclusion is that no evidence was presented that would make the order illegal on the ground that U.S. forces are engaged in war crimes or crimes against humanity."

Brown said the testimony produced by defense witnesses, who told of atrocities by South Vietnamese, might be considered in setting a lesser sentence if Levy is convicted.

Levy could receive up to 11 years imprisonment.

The Army prosecutor, Capt. Richard M. Shusterman, said the principal issues remaining were intent, ethics and the motive for the order itself.

The court must decide if Levy's statements in opposition to the war, including a letter to a soldier, were designed to promote disloyalty among U. S. troops.

LBJ Hinting Big Summit If Thant Fails

OTTAWA (AP) — President Johnson told Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson he may propose a Big Four summit conference if the United Natipns fails to cool off the Middle East crisis, a Canadian government informant said today.

The informant said Johnson broached the idea to the Canadian leader during their luncheon conference yesterday at Pearson's lakeside summer residence 20 miles from Ottawa.

Both leaders expressed hope, the informant said, that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant would have some solution as a result of his meeting in Cairo this week with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

PEARSON AGREES

Johnson was reported to have said, however, that if Thant's efforts failed and if the 15-nation Security Council is unable to agree on measures to ease the crisis, Johnson would favor meeting with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Pearson agreed that four-power talks at the top level would be desirable if U.N. efforts broke down, the informant said, but he told the President that Canada would prefer a U.N. settlement involving the establishment of a border patrol along the Egyptian-Israel frontier.

Thant pulled the U.N. Middle East peace force out of the area last week in reponse to demands by Nasser.

NO HINT

Johnson and Pearson held a news conference just before the President returned to Washington but gave no hint of possible solutions to the Middle East crisis which they had discussed.

Johnson said the talk covered "problems of peace in the world today," including the Middle East situation and the Vietnam war. Pearson said they discussed "the very dangerous and difficult international situation."

Neither gave any details.

Abortion Bill Altered At Reagan's Request

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill to liberalize California's abortion law has been rewritten to Gov. Ronald Reagan's specifications and set for a committee vote June 8.

The bill, proposed by Assemblyman W. Craig Biddle, D-Riverside, was amended yesterday by the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee to conform with the type of abortion bill Gov. Reagan told last Tuesday's news conference he would sign.

The amendments eliminate proposals to permit abortions to prevent birth of babies that physicians feel would be born deformed. Reagan said this prebirth judgment was too speculative for him.

Amendments also tightened restrictions on abortions to terminate pregnancies caused by statutory rape. Such abortions would be permitted only for girls under 14 years of age.

The measure retains permission for abortions to preserve the mental and physical health of the mother and to terminate pregnancies caused by forcible rape and incest.

The amendments were aimed at securing bi-partisan support of a bill liberalizing California's 19th century abortion laws.

Biddle's bill was set for a vote at 8 p.m. June 8 in the Assembly Procedure Committee.

Boom Is Public, Cause Is Secret

A sonic boom shook parts of Marin at 11:32 a.m. today, and for the second time this week, the Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base declared it could not give the cause because it was "classified."

Air Force authorities made a similar response to queries after a boom at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Most sonic booms in recent months have been identified as caused by SR-71 experimental reconnaisance planes from Edwards Air Force Base, which exceed the speed of sound. There was a similar "classified" response regarding these planes for some months, however, until a picture of the craft appeared in newspapers throughout the nation.

Vietnam Said Not Like Munich

The U.S. position in Vietnam is not comparable to that at Munich before World War II, an audience at College of Marin was told last night.

In Czechoslovakia a popular government was threatened by outside military power of Germany, Ben Seaver of the American Friends Service Committee said. In South Vietnam there has been only a puppet government and the United States is the outsider threatenening intervention, he contended.

Seaver pointed out American failure to sign the 1954 Geneva agreement on Vietnam, and the failure to hold promised elections.

Seaver spoke at a meeting sponsored by the Friends Service Committee and the Marin Citizens Concerned About Vietnam. A U. S. Defense Department film, "Why Vietnam?" was also shown.

Reagan Installment Tax Plan's Penalties Protested By Unruh

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's plan for twice a year payment of personal income taxes carries a stern warning to middle and high income Californians — pay on time or suffer a stiff penalty.

If they don't pay their first installment by Oct. 15, they would be subject to a penalty of 10 per cent of the unpaid amount. And, there'd be a half a per cent a month interest charge for every month they delayed.

The penalty provision, disclosed in an outline of the governor's plan yesterday appeared likely to spark a fight with Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood.

"We ought to try it on a voluntary basis and let the people send in their taxes without this heavy penalty that is being proposed," said Unruh.

In a surprising move, Unruh welcomed witnesses — including the Governor — to debate tax measures in an unusual "committee of the whole" Assembly session next Thursday. Reagan's aides indicated the governor probably won't appear at the session, designed to decide the fate of a $1.5 billion tax increase bill by Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R-Modesto—which includes withholding.

Reagan said his installment tax payment plan will bring $145 million into the treasury after Oct. 15 — enough, he said, to ease the state through an expected December cash shortage.

Under present law, taxes wouldn't be paid until the following April 15, too late to aid in the financial pinch. Unruh favors withholding of personal income taxes beginning in October to bring in the needed money on time.

Reagan said there would be "obsolutely no additional paperwork" for employers.

Under his plan, everybody who paid $200 or more in 1966 taxes would pay a first installment of $100 on Oct. 15.

On April 15, 1968, they would pay the balance of their 1967 taxes. The second installment could be higher than the first since Reagan's tax request sharply increases levies in some brackets.

The following year, the installment plan would apply to everyone whose previous tax bill was $400, if the governor's tax increase bill becomes law.

That would leave the $20,000 a year man still on the installment plan since his taxes, now $234 a year, would be jumped to $453.

Some 350,000 would be affected the first year and 365,000 the second year. In the second year, the Oct. 15 installment would bring in $265,000.

Since the administration needs the first installment to meet an immediate cash shortage, the penalties are in the plan to make sure everybody pays on time.

Novato Coed Earns Dominican Degree

Cleon Tocolino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Tocolino of Novato, was graduated today with honors from Dominican College of San Rafael, receiving a bachelor of arts degree in art history with a minor in Italian.

Miss Tocolino's name was omitted from an earlier list of honors graduates. She will return to Dominican in the fall as a graduate student to work for a teaching credential.

U. C. Coeds Deny Spanish Claims

BERKELEY (UPI) — Two University of California coeds say they were thrown out of Spain because newspapers there misinterpreted their activities.

Karen Winn of Walnut Creek and Roberta Alexander of Los Angeles, both 20, said yesterday that they did not plan or lead the anti-Vietnam rally April 28 on the University of Madrid campus at which two American flags were burned.

The girls quoted one Spanish newspaper as charging that they were seeking to impose the New Left movement on Spanish students and "were advocating free sex and filthy speech."

Miss Alexander said that her only activity in the area was to read a report on U.S. anti-war demonstrations to 4,000 Spanish students.

The vote was 7-4 of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Reagan Claimed Match For LBJ

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—California's Gov. Ronald Reagan not only could win the Republican nomination for president, he could also defeat President Lyndon B. Johnson, one of Reagan's top advisers said yesterday.

"If anyone can unite the Republican Party, it is Gov. Reagan," said Henry Salvatori, chairman of the board of the Western Geophysical Co. of America in Los Angeles.

Salvatori, in Atlanta to attend a board meeting of Transamerica Corp., was Barry Goldwater's finance chairman in California during the last presidential election and is now one of Regan's close financial advisers.

He said he sees Reagan riding a wave of national popularity which, he said, could sweep the ex-movie star into the White House.

Truck Damaged

A hit-run auto damaged a truck belonging to Carl J. Antoni of Schellville while it was parked at Baltimore and Palm avenues in Corte Madera at 2:25 p.m. yesterday, police reported.

CAN A SCOTCH MAKE HISTORY?

CANNONGATE TOLBOOTH, with its projecting clock, built in 1591 where it stands today on the Royal Mile in Edinburgh. Over its door is the motto "pro patria et posteris"—which may also express the feelings of the Master Blender nearby in the ancient burgh of Paisley as he produces 100 Pipers Scotch Whisky.

A lot of people who haven't liked the taste of Scotch take their first sip of 100 Pipers, and say:

"It tastes good."

So, in a way, by making people change their minds, 100 Pipers is making history.

Which is only fair, since history is what made 100 Pipers.

(100 Pipers comes from a long line of old Scotch whiskies renowned for their taste, such as the Glenlivets, Keiths, and Macallans.)

If you're a Scotch drinker, it may taste the way you've always wanted Scotch to taste.

If you've never tried Scotch before, we think you'll find 100 Pipers tastes the way you hoped it would. It's easy to like.

Colllege Of Marin Honors Three

The Marin Junior College District Board last night named two Mill Valley residents as outstanding citizens of the year and a San Anselmo merchant as the outstanding alumnus of the year.

Named to receive outstanding citizen awards were Jack Younger, a San Rafael insurance agent, and Kent O. Seymour, a Kentfield real estate broker, who both reside in Mill Valley.

William Franchini, meat market owner and former San Anselmo city councilman and mayor, will receive the outstanding alumnus award.

Younger is chairman of the 1966-67 fund drive for the College of Marin Foundation. He is past president of the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club, past chairman of the education committee of the Marin County Grand Jury, and past president of Mill Valley's Project 17 recreation development.

Seymour, a lifelong Marin resident, resigned from the Marin Junior College District Board last year after serving seven years. He is special gifts chairman of the 1967 fund drive of the College of Marin Foundation.

Seymour's father served on the college board from 1925 to '39 and his mother served 18 years on the Tamalpais High and Mill Valley school boards. In the family tradition, Seymour and his twin brother, Elliot, served on the Mill Valley School District Board.

Franchini was graduated from the college in 1935 and was a member of the group that organized a College of Marin alumni association four years ago. He is a director of the alumni association, and has been active in the San Rafael Elks Lodge and Little League baseball.

Trustees also voted to award special citations to the owner and residents of the Hillcrest Rest Home in Santa Venetia for their efforts on behalf of the College of Marin Foundation. Those to be honored are Mrs. Ann Schlotsin, nurse; Mrs. Ruby Schneider, Mrs. Lottie Bury, Louise Givonovitch, Lorry Ehrer and John Poole.

The awards and special certificates will be presented by Board Chairman Robert E. Rogers at the college graduation exercises at 4 p.m. June 16 in the gymnasium at the Kentfield campus.

Senate Approves Penalties For Teachers' Dope

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has approved a bill stiffening education code penalties against teachers convicted of using major narcotics, but lessening their punishment for petty theft convictions.

The legislation passed 25-3 yesterday would require denial or revocation of teaching credentials for major narcotics convictions, such as in use of heroin, opium or cocaine.

A school district would have to place teachers on compulsory leave if and when they are charged with either a major or minor narcotics offense. Minor offenses include marijuana, peyote and LSD use. The measure now goes to the Assembly.

Car Clout Reported

Theft of a .38 caliber revolver and a hunting knife from his car was reported yesterday to Sausalito police by Nunzio Alioto, 14 Alexander Avenue. Also taken from his locked car while it was parked at home were several rolls of quarters, driving gloves and several hats, he said.

Mrs. Thoresen Arrested Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An automatic .45 caliber sub-machine gun with a silencer prompted the arrest — again yesterday — of Mrs. William Thoresen II.

She and her husband already were charged on the basis of raids that turned up more than 70 tons of munitions.

Federal agents arrested the 30-year-old blonde only a few blocks from the Pacific Heights mansion where a raid last month yielded a huge cache that included an anti-tank gun.

The agents said Mrs. Thoresen had picked up the sub-machine gun, dismantled and boxed in three packages, from a woman friend.

She was taken before U.S. District Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli who ruled that her bail of $7,500 for three previous arrests was sufficient to cover the new case.

Silver is no longer mined in Germany, although at one time the country was a leading producer.

New Technique Reduces Smog

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new way to reduce air pollution in coal-burning electric power plants was described today at the golden jubilee convention of the Pacific Coast Electric Association.

Westinghouse Electric Corp. Vice President John W. Simpson said, "It involves converting coal to gas, removing the sulphur and then burning the gas in special cycle turbines," Simpson said.

He urged members to assist their communities in the fight against air pollution by setting up task forces to study environmental problems.

WHEELS FOR A BEATLE'S TRIPS

While critics howl, Rolls Royce workers prepare at Chertsey, Surrey, England to deliver Beatle John Lennon's new auto, complete with a $2,800 psychedelic paint job, instead of the traditional black Rolls, or even the "dashing" blue job. Lennon's chariot is bright yellow, with blue, red, green, white and orange scrolls, flowers, and a Zodiac sign. The gaudy car's plush insides include blackout windows to hide its owner, a bar, and two television sets, it was revealed yesterday.

Confession Is Disbelieved —Robbery Figure Guilty

Disbelieving the witness box confession of a defense witness, a Marin Superior Court jury late yesterday found 18-year-old Loverd Howard guilty of armed robbery.

The verdict came at 5:20 p.m., after nearly four hours deliberation during which a woman juror nearly fainted.

Extra sessions Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Superior Court said he would set sentencing next Friday.

The eight-woman, four-man jury found Howard guilty of the Feb. 1 robbery of Richard Lomax of Sausalito and Nancy Baker of Marin City despite testimony by 15-year-old James Edward Huff that he was the gunman.

At near close of the four-hour deliberation period, a woman juror nearly fainted. A sheriff's bailiff fetched an emergency oxygen kit and oxygen was administered.

Howard, of 99 Cole Drive, Marin City, robbed Lomax and Miss Baker at gunpoint in her apartment. Charged in juvenile court as his robbery companion is his brother, Wayne Howard, 16.

Huff, of 302 Drake Avenue, took the stand yesterday as a defense witness, refused to answer questions on grounds of possible self-incrimination, then was ordered to answer by Judge Goldstein.

The order granted Huff immunity from prosecution for the armed robbery, and he testified he and Wayne were the robbers. The immunity does not exempt him from a possible perjury charge.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Anthony was prosecutor, Harold J. Truett, assistant public defender, represented Howard.

Court Reverses Murder Verdict

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The murder conviction of Rufus Wilson was reversed yesterday by the California Supreme Court, which ordered a new trial for the Los Angeles forklift operator.

Wilson, 43, was found guilty of murdering his wife, Ann, and William Washington in Los Angeles on Oct. 14, 1964. He was sentenced to death April 13, 1965.

The Supreme Court, in yesterday's 6-1 decision, held that the trial court failed to give correct instructions to the jury on the question of Wilson's breaking and entering with intent to kill, and on whether Wilson was conscious at the time he fired the fatal shots.

Students' Films To Be Presented

Films produced by students in the College of Marin Film Department will be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Sunday in Olney Hall at the college.

On the program are: "Market Street In A Glimpse" by Jim Theile, "You're Insane" by Andy Campbell, "Number 117" by Jon Perry, "Mod Mod World" by Jake Feinzilberg, "Redwood Empire Railroading" by Mike Pechner, "Anti-Adonis" and "Four-Love" by Baillargeon, "Action Land" by Dennis Labella, "Be-In" by Charles Fleischman.

Two films by the entire class are included, "Arcanum" and "Captain Marin," and an untitled film by Dave Leech. The showing is presented by E. L. Caillate, film instructor.

Sarah Fleming Due In East Bay Concert

Soprano Sarah Fleming of San Anselmo will be a featured soloist with the Richmond Symphony in a free public concert at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow in the Richmond Arts Center in connection with the Richmond Festival of the Arts.

She will sing in a performance of Haydn's Lord Nelson Mass under direction of Joseph Leibling, new choral conductor for the Richmond and Oakland symphonies.

Marinwood Fire Chief, Directors Patch It Up

Misunderstandings between Marinwood Fire Chief James W. Cameron and his bosses were ironed out last night in a three-hour session of Marinwood Community Services District directors, and Cameron withdrew his resignation.

He resigned Tuesday night after a closed session with the Marinwood fire commission, advisory group for the CSD board.

Last night's meeting, an open session before the board attended by about 25 persons, dealt with the chief's administrative authority, handling of paid and volunteer firemen, and chain of command in airing complaints, district secretary Genevieve Bolding said today.

Directors told the chief that the administrative authority he asked was mostly already spelled out in the rules. The board assured Cameron he would be backed up on the rules.

Robert Cawley, chairman of the fire commission, was designated as the only man to whom paid firemen could air complaints.

Scientists estimate an average person can absorb about 100 million items of information in a lifetime.

Teener Injured As Jeep Skids

Three teen-agers were injured when they were dumped from a Jeep as it skidded and overturned at 11:30 p.m. yesterday while going up a hill in Sleepy Hollow.

The driver, James F. Parnow, 17, of 7 San Gabriel Court, Fairfax, suffered cuts and bruises. Sam Irving, 17, of 120 Porteous Avenue, Fairfax, suffered bruises on the left hip, and Richard R.Thornhill, 18, of 1586 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, a scraped right ankle. All were treated at Mariin General Hospital.

Young Parnow is a son of Capt. Theodore F. Parnow, who heads the California Highway Patrol in Marin.

PUBLIC WARNING, PRIVATE PROPERTY

Whoever abandoned this car on the vacant lot opposite San Rafael Moose Lodge at 10 Woodland Avenue must have read the small print on the sign, according to Police Lt. Raymond F. Bleasdale. The sign says the city has power to act only against dumping "along this roadway or other public property." Bleasdale said yesterday that the owner of the car was asked a week ago to remove it, but the city cannot enforce the request without the owner of the lot asks it to.

County Lets Utility Poles Go Onto Hill

Power poles and overhead lines, something Marin County supervisors have long tried to get underground, are going up on White Hill east of Fairfax with tacit approval of the supervisors.

Installation of nine poles by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. crews began yesterday. The poles and lines will run up the entire east slope of the hill, providing street lighting.

County traffic engineer James Robertson explained today that lighting the road was among his recommendations for improving the safety of the grade, in a study asked by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer.

Robertson said the board raised no objection. The public works department then asked PG&E to install lights.

Board minutes show no action on the request. Supervisor William A. Gnoss, the only member of the board available today, said that he could recall no request for street lights on White Hill.

County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, who recently fought dilligently for underground on a stretch of rebuilt Lucas Valley Road, said that as far as he knew there was no coordination on the department of public works request with his department.

Cited For Theft

A 16-year-old Belvedere youth was cited today by Mill Valley police for petty theft and violation of curfew after he was found at 3:35 a.m. siphoning gas from cars on Sycamore Avenue. He was released to the custody of his mother.

MOUNTAIN

quarters and pay a $1 fee.

Lands adjoining Mount Tamalpais State Park, owned by Muir Woods National Monument and Marin Municipal Water District, are also closed to campers.

The water district board Wednesday declared its watershed closed to overnight camping. The district will have extra personnel on patrol June 3 and 4, said Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger.

Chief Ranger Ray Foust of Muir Woods park said the woods are closed to all visitors at sunset.

STATION'S STAND

While officials prepared to deal with traffic and illegal camping, KFRC spokesman Lyn Dahl said the station "can't get involved in that."

Miss Dahl said: "We have hired security people for crowd control during the performance. We can only involve ourselves with out own equipment, which will be guarded during the night."

Miss Dahl said "we are definitely not encouraging" a camp-in.

If any of the young people expect to spend the night under the stars with the 25 recording artists, they will be disappointed. Miss Dahl said the musicians will be bused up the mountain for each performance and leave right afterward.

In addition to music, the happening on the mountain will feature entertainment booths, swings in the trees, a geodesic dome with psychedelic light show, and other far-out pleasantries, according to Miss Dahl.

Many visitors are attracted to Cornwall. Motorists, cyclists, hikers and artists explore Cadgwith and other places with such beguiling names as Goonhilly Downs, Zennor, Lizard, Gunwalloe, Mousehold (pronounced "muzzle") and Penzance (immortalized by Gilbert and Sullivan).

Compromise Offered On River Share Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — In an effort to break a deadlock, the Reagan administration has offered an amendment to pending Congressional legislation to provide for interstate transfer of Colorado River water.

The suggestion yesterday from State Water Resources Director William R. Gianelli was designed to dispel Pacific Northwest fears that water plans will be formulated before their own needs are determined.

Tiburon Merchants Would Limit Parking

A plan to ban parking on Tiburon's Main Street on weekends and limit it during the week was agreed upon today by the Tiburon Marin Street Merchants Association.

The plan, which would restrict parking on Main Street to a half hour, Monday through Friday, and put a two-hour limit on parking on Paradise Drive between Main and Mar West streets, will be presented to the Tiburon City Council.

The last shot of the Civil War was fired at Palmito Ranch near Brownsville, Tex., May 13, 1865, says the Texas Almanac.

Celebration Bill Sets A Precedent

SACRAMENTO (AP) — For the first time in official memories, Gov. Ronald Reagan, Lt. Gov. Robert Finch and Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh were all on hand at the same time to sign a bill into law.

The occasion in the governor's office yesterday resulted in much joshing, as when Unruh, D-Inglewood, asked Republican Reagan whether he was "still typing on Edmund Brown stationery?"

The bill appropriates $25,000 toward arrangements for California's 1969 bi-centennial celebration. Usually, bills are signed on separate occasions by the governor, lieutenant governor and speaker.

No-Grow Garden

TADLEY, England (UPI)—All the world knows about the Englishman and his garden—but not a garden like that of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walder. It's a splash of color year 'round with some 5,000 chrysanthemums, dahlias, red roses, tulips and other blooms—all of plastic. "People in the village used to laugh," says Walder. "Now they envy the color."

Legislators Lose Twin Primary Right

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislators won't be able to run in primaries for their own office and the governor's office or another statewide position at the same time, the Senate has decided.

The proposal by Sen. Mervyn M. Dymally, D-Los Angeles, would have allowed this and provided that a candidate who won two elections at once could take his chance. The bill failed yesterday on a 16-16 vote, with most Democrats for and most against. For passage, 21 votes were needed.

Recreation Program Hiring Authorized

Directors of Gallinas Village Community Services District last night authorized employment of Thomas Corbett of Tiburon, the third person to be employeed for two months this summer to direct the district's summer to direct the district's first recreation program.

Corbett, a senior at San Francisco State College, will receive $350 a month, district secretary Marguerite Clark reported.

Board Lends Cash To Pay Welfare Checks, Salaries

In a brief meeting late yesterday, Marin County supervisors authorized county money to be put up to cover $318,315 in federal welfare money for June salaries and welfare checks, covering a lag in federal funding.

Supervisors told County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell to use whatever fund appropriate to cover $147,474 as the federal portion of welfare checks. Mitchell told supervisors the state has agreed to cover this portion of the federal lag, but the state money is not expected until June 5, four days after the day for welfare check disbursement.

County funds, probably from the veterans memorial building fund, will be used to cover $170,841 in the federal lag needed to meet the payroll next month for county welfare workers.

The federal funds to repay this will probably not arrive until about October.

Supervisors yesterday adjourned until 9 a.m. next Friday to hold a closed session to interview candidates for director of data processing, and open sessions on a six-year capital improvement program and discussion of salaries with Fred Ward, manager of the Marin County Employees Association.

THE TUNNEL BENEATH THE CHAPEL — San Quentin security guard Lt. Aaron L. Stewart crawls into the air duct beneath the prison's Protestant Chapel from a tunnel convicts had dug in a bid to gain freedom outside the north wall. Stewart was in the tunnel yesterday when he came face to face with would-be escaper Lane Scott. (UPI photo)

Prison Tunnel Considered Not Mass Escape Scheme

The underground tunnel dug by San Quentin convicts in a bid for freedom was not part of a plan for a mass escape, a prison official said today.

"Although we do not eliminate the possibility that more than three men were involved — perhaps as many as five — it is unlikely the route could have been used more than once," said Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

He said officials were not ready to release the names of the suspected accomplices of robber Lane Scott, 24, who was caught by a prison security guard yesterday as he scooped away dirt in the 80-foot-long tunnel.

Lane and two unidentified partners were locked in isolation today, brooding over what went wrong with what could have been a perfect escape.

The tunnel began in an air-conditioning duct underneath the Protestant Chapel and headed toward the north wall. The digging convicts were thwarted by bedrock and brick foundations and angled the tunnel into an arc which could have ended back in the chapel.

Security Lt. Aaron L. Steward came face to face with Scott when he entered the narrow tunnel to investigate early yesterday.

Park said today that even if the tunnel route had succeeded and the convicts had reached open ground beyond the wall, they would have had other barriers to freedom before getting out of the area.

Lane and his accomplices face an extra five years on their sentences if convicted of attempting to escape. This is the maximum for an attempt without the use of violence.

Already serving a life sentence for robbery, Lane, of Los Angeles County, would have automatically been considered for parole in September. It was unlikely to be granted with Lane's past record, even before the escape, said Park.

Lane walked away from the minimum security area at Chino State Prison several years ago and once made an attempt to escape on his way to trial.

He was employed as a clerk in the education section at San Quentin.

Budget On Agenda

Corte Madera Town Coucil will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the town hall to consider the proposed fiscal 1967 budget and "such other matters as may properly come before the council," announced Town Clerk Betty Behel.

Condemning Move Voted In Bolinas

Bolinas Harbor District commissioners last night voted to acquire, through eminent domain, four tideland parcels on the lagoon.

The action was prompted by district planner Norman T. Gilroy's report that immediate dredging of the parcels is necessary to preserve the lagoon and remove silt deposited by heavy winter rains.

The district will move to acquire the 15-acre Reinhardt property and the nine-acre Audubon Society property, both inside the channel mouth, and portions of parcels on the west side of the lagoon owned by the Francisco and Albright families, said Gene W. McDaniel, board chairman. He did not know how much of the Francisco and Albright properties would be sought, or the cost of acquiring the four parcels.

A federal disaster grant will be asked, he said, to finance the dredging.

The commission's move to establish its priority to the parcels, McDaniel noted, was praised last night by Melton Ferris, chairman of the county parks and recreation commission, as an action which moves property bordering the lagoon into public domain.

Commissioners agreed to consider exchanging surplus land at the channel mouth to the county to expand Kent Island Park, Gilroy reported.

The record high temperature in the United States was a 134 degree reading reported in Death Valley, Calif. in 1913.

Terra Linda Students Elect Fall Officers

Steve Delman will head the sophomore class, Pat Daters, the juniors, and Bob Ullner the seniors at Terra Linda High School next fall as result of elections yesterday and Wednesday.

Bottling Plant Thief Gets Keys

A burglar pried his way into the 7-Up Bottling Co. at 43 Tiburon Street, San Rafael, Wednesday night but stole only a set of vending machine keys, police reported today.

What's more, the keys won't fit new-style vending machines, 7-Up employee Elmer R. Smith told police.

The burglar pried open the metal sheeting wall at a seam to enter the building.

Air Force's Top Non-Com Visits Rites

The top enlisted man in the Air Force, CM Sgt. Paul W. Airey, was honored guest today at commencement exercises for 78 men graduating from the Air Defense Command Noncommissioned Officers Academy at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Lt. Gen. Herbert B. Thatcher, Air Defense commander, was the guest speaker.

The academy was formed 10 years ago today at Otis Air Force Base, Mass., and moved to Hamilton in 1960. Since that time more than 3,000 sergeants from the Air Defense Command have been trained by the Academy in such fields as management, public speaking, world affairs and human relations.

Sergeant Airey, 43, who was named to the top post for enlisted men in the Air Force earlier this year, graduated from the NCO Academy at Hamilton in 1962. Since his graduation, he has held assignments in North Dakota and Florida.

As the top enlisted man in the Air Force, Sergeant Airey is the adviser to the Chief of Staff and Secretary of the Air Force on all matters concerning enlisted personnel.

He is a veteran of 28 combat missions as a radio operator on a Liberator bomber during World War II. The Legion of Merit and the Air Medal are among his decorations.

The course at the Hamilton NCO Academy lasts for five weeks. The men undergo a strenuous schedule starting at 5 a.m. and ending with taps at 11 p.m. Senior sergeants are insructors.

A DIFFERENT GRADUATION MARCH — This is graduation time at Hamilton Air Force Base, as well as at schools and colleges. Seventy-eight enlisted menu were in the 10th anniversary graduating class of the NCO Academy there today. They marched to classes with their brief cases each day, marched to graduation ceremonies today. (Air Force photo)

Bonds Sale

Sales of U. S. savings bonds in Marin County during April totaled $153,752 compared to the $13,534,446, county bonds chairman D. C. Davis said yesterday.

FCC Official's Conduct Cleared

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Investigations started by Federal Communications Commissioner Robert C. Lee into his own conduct have ended with findings that he did not get or seek favors from International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

The findings were disclosed yesterday when the Justice Department accepted the results of an FCC inquiry into Lee's contacts with an ITT consultant, after conducting a separate probe into the matter.

Lee's relations with the consultant were called to question by a report filed in April by an ITT subsidiary—Federal Electric Corp.—as part of the evidence in FCC hearings on the pending $2.4 billion merger of ITT with American Broadcasting Co.

Bruised In Skid

Janet Schwab, 20, of 40 Corte Ramon, Greenbrae, was bruised on the nose today at 1:20 a.m. when her car skidded off a curve of the northbound Sausalito lateral by Fort Baker and hit a guard rail. She was taken by Sausalito fireman to Marin General Hospital for treatment.

Ross Given Greene Park Addition

The Town of Ross last night received a gift of 2.6 acres along Ross Creek, giving the town control of the entire approach to its recently acquired 25-acre park at Phoenix Lake.

The new parcel was given by Isabel K. Dibblee of Upper Road in memory of her husband, the late Benjamin H. Dibblee. The land is a portion of her 50-acre estate. It borders the Lagunitas Road access ot the new park, which is named for Natalie Coffin Greene, wife of donor A. Crawford Greene, whose estate purchased it from Marin Municipal Water District.

Mrs. Dibblee specified her gift should be added to Greene Park, used solely for park purposes, and contain no picnic tables, said Mayor Frederick S. Allen.

The deed was accepted by the town council at a special meeting last night.

Grocery Clerks Eye San Francisco Strike

Grocery clerks in Marin County, disatisfied with execution of labor contracts signed in January, are keeping an eye on developments in San Francisco where a strike is brewing, it was reported today.

Lorin Young, secretary-treasurer of Marin's Local 1119 of the Retail Clerks Union, said about 20 markets in this county have failed to meet all provisions of the contracts. Individually and chain operated markets are involved, he said. Young said there are no plans for immediate action in Marin.

Estes suffered a fractured arm. Mrs. Owles suffered lip and chin cuts.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Ondine Plans Nothing Special To Mark 10th Year In Sausalito

In a few days a major Marin restaurant — and certainly one which has done its share in attracting visitors to this country from all over the world—will observe a 10th birthday.

This is Ondine—classic waterfront dinery in Sausalito overlooking the bay, much of its marine traffic and the San Francisco skyline. Perennial winner of Holiday magazine awards and honors from other travel and gourmet magazines. An exciting place for some to dine, awesome for others who prefer less glamorous surroundings, a Mecca for food dilettantes, big names and cosmopolites. Its attractions are multiple and it is many things to many people. But whatever else, it must never be classified as mediocre, phlegmatic or dull.

According to co-owner George Gutekunst, Ondine will neither celebrate officially nor pay any particular observance to the anniversary of its opening in early June, 1957. This is not strange, since any ado would only be excess icing on the cake. It needs no celebration of its own, but is there for the pleasure of celebrants of other events and the spotlight of attention is focused on them.

The menu, filled with suggestions for sumptuous dining, seldom varies, since Monsieur le Chef Alfred Roblin essays to bring each savory dish to its own complete fulfillment. From time to time he does get inspired to add something new when it has been thoroughly tested and meets his standards of quality, but to the best of my knowledge there have been only two recent additions — filet of sole voisin and chicken saute archiduc, both of which I commend to discriminating palates. I'm not sure which archduke is honored but he must have been important.

So, though Ondine will skip lightly over the occasion, may I at least interject "Congratulations on a decade of good dining service—and Happy Birthday!"

THE WINNERS have been named in the San Rafael Joe's contest to determine the number of colored glass segments in the mural over the back bar.

Two of the entrants—a chef and a firefighter—were right on the nose in their count. Hector Rubini and Guido Farina decided to call off the toss-up for final honors, so both winners and their wives will be feted, dined and wined for the evening.

They were, by the way, Roger Poli, chef at La Petite Auberge, San Rafael, and Paul W. Sasse, San Rafael Fire Department. I can't help but wonder what chef Poli will order from the menu, and will he prescribe how it should be prepared the French way—or take it Italian style?

Both guessed the correct count of 325 pieces of glass. Strangely enough, there were a number of guesses on each side of them —324 and 326. And even more 318s. All of which shows that contestants took their counting very seriously. I assure you it was no picnic tallying off each segment and trying to decide if it actually was a separate piece —or part of another.

AFTER MANY YEARS of faithful service, the old rinky-tink piano at Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur, is about to be retired from its Friday and Saturday night performances and a new act will move in starting next week—June 2 and 3.

This is known as Dick Saltzman II—which is another way of saying that there are two performers instead of three—Dick Saltzman on the vibraphone and Walt Ulner on the guitar. They are booked for the months of June, July and August, with Friday and Saturday appearances from 9 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. All types of music—you name it. They are capable musicians and can handle contemporary, old pops—just about anything. Well, maybe not opera.

DON JOHNSON new owner of London Arms on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile, has completed his expansion and remodeling. There's more room now in the pub section—with nine tables and bar seating. Fish and chips are the principal menu offering, with special English sausage and chips on Monday nights. Gaming here—chess and darts.

London Arms now opens at noon on Fridays and Saturdays. Hours during the rest of the week are from 5 to 10 p.m.

WEEKLY STYLE SHOWS are being held every Thursday lunchtime at Ben Farlatti's Tiburon Lodge, with fashions provided by a local salon. At 12:30 p.m., models start strolling through the dining room, and if you time your luncheon date right you can take in the entire show of recommended wear for all occasions.

RAMONA'S in San Rafael is scheduled to remain open on the Tuesday, May 30, holiday. If the thermometer is high that day, be assured the only thing that may be hot will be the chile sauce. Ramona Stallings now has air conditioning.

On the menu should be stuffed peppers with picadillo (meat) with cheese and sour cream sauce.

Sorry, I can't tell you that popular troubador Pablo Castro will entertain that day — he's still down for Wednesdays and Sundays. Sometime in June he may be rescheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings if his other commitments permit.

THE GIBSON HOUSE under new owners Ross Post and his wife, Danni, who will take over this Bolinas restaurant the first of the month (probably opening June 8), will be on a lunch and dinner schedule six days a week — closing Wednesdays. There will also be a sandwich menu.

They plan good after-dinner entertainment from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays — and have already booked their first entertainers, Ronald Chinn, who plays the 13-string lute is down for the Friday and Sunday evenings of June 9 and 11. Michael O'Rourke, playing a woodwind "recorder" used in Medieval courts, is scheduled for the Saturday night of June 10.

IF SOMEONE should ask me where to find the best singing talent performing in Marin County, I'd have to answer: "Sabella's piano bar."

Occasional exceptions to the contrary duly noted—but measure for measure there are more good voices clustered about Sabella's organist, Bob Stewart, than any such place I know. Bob himself is no slouch at the lyrics, but he seldom contributes unless asked, subordinating his vocalizing to accompanying others.

Many of those who appear here are or have been professionals, I know. And it's not unusual for diners on their way out through the lobby to pause appreciatively and listen. Nothing like Bocce Ball in the city, you understand. But if you take the time to tarry you'll be surprised at what you hear.

Book Sale Set

The Richardson Bay School Spanish Club will have a book sale June 3 at the Co-op Market on Tamal Vista Drive, Corte Madera, to raise money to finance a two-week Mexico tour.

Council Ignores Election Plea

The College of Marin student executive council at its last meeting of the semester yesterday took no notice of demands for a new student body election made Wednesday by the College of Marin Times.

The student newspaper cited "illegalities" in the election and asked that the results be voided. Times editor David Einstein, a member of the council, asked for a committee investigation of "faults in the election code," but did not challenge the election returns, at the council meeting.

Out-going student body president Mike Kawai told Einstein the student council could not appoint a committee at its last council meeting before leaving office.

College Teachers, Staff Given Raise, But Not Administrators

Marin Junior College District trustees last night granted teachers a 7 per cent salary scale boost, non-teaching employees a 2 per cent boost, and administrators none.

They also granted group life insurance and income protection insurance to all employees.

Business Mgr. Norman Bird estimated the salary boosts would cost the district an additional $108,543, and the fringe benefits, $30,228.

A move by Trustee Robert E. Oliver to have the 7 per cent pay boost stand for two years failed for lack of a second. There were comments later about thrashing out salaries through negotiations next year.

Acting President Irwin P. Diamond said teachers originally had sought a 10 per cent boost, but amended it later to 8 per cent.

Dikran J. Martin, chairman of the faculty salary committee, urged the 8 per cent scale increase. "The district can afford 8 per cent and we wonder why it was dropped to 7 per cent," he said.

Oliver said the 7 per cent was not pulled out of the air, but an increase that the board felt was reasonable after much consideration. The boost was the maximum the board could consider in view of the fiscal situation the district faces, he said. (The 7 per cent is in addition to automatic step raises provided annually for most teachers.)

Trustees said administrators' salaries will be considered after William K. Ramstad takes office as college president, but there will be no general increase.

Michael Hansen, administrative assistant for government projects, said administrators felt "it was unlikely they would get less than 3.5 per cent, the increase in the cost of living."

Hansen was up for change of duties to include institutional research and a pay boost from $12,760 to $14,000 a year. He asked the board to consider that change later in view of its position on administrative salaries. The item was withdrawn.

Trustee Thomas F. Skornia objected to the process whereby the board receives "an all or nothing" proposal and "isn't in a position to demand requirements and other things."

"I'd like to see evaluation and a reward and bonus system. We're not negotiating in the present context," declared Skornia.

Martin said the faculty could continue as it has in deliberations with the board's salary committee of "go to negotiation."

Trustee Theodore C. Wellman commented: "I'm not so sure it (negotiation) wouldn't be better."

Mrs. Louise O'Conner, representing the non-teaching employees, said the 2 per cent pay boost "seemed arbitrary for the smallest segment" of the college staff.

Wellman said that the pay boost plus fringe benefits represented a boost of "more than 5 per cent."

Trustees also approved a tentative budget of $19,742 for the 1967-68 concert-lecture series and a tentative line-up including Melvin Belli, the National Ballet of Mexico, the San Francisco Symphony, American Conservatory Theater, Saul Bellow, Mario Pei, and Linus Pauling.

Marin Junior College District Board Also:

FINE ARTS BIDS — Called for bids on equipment for the fine arts building, estimated to cost $257,000, and approved three change orders in construction of the building at a cost of $981

FAIR PARKING — Approved the use of the college's parking facilities for Marin Art and Garden Fair patrons, but noted that the parking gates will be in operation at a charge of 25 cents per car.

MERIT PAY — Received a 68-page study of "Merit Pay and Evaluation as They Relate to the Administrative Staff," by R. J. Melone of the University of California at Berkeley. It recommended against a merit pay program for administrators.

NEW EMPLOYEES — Hired Edward L. Essick, as business instructor at $7,500; Mrs. Christina Flynn, instructor in registered nursing, $7,000, and Billie Craig, dental assistant, $7,000.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of Laura Escola, dental assistant; Thomas R. Rovell, custodian, and LeRoy E. Snyder, building inspector.

KIWANIS DONATION — Received notice that the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club has made available to the college a $1,000 fund to provide individual tutoring.

SALARY CHANGES — Granted Donald E. Griffin, coordinator of date processing production, and Harry Pieper, director of athletics and recreation, each an additional $2,500 salary because of additional assignments, and re-classified Mrs. Earlene Jones from secretary to the administrative assistant at $425 a month, to public information officer at $620 a month.

MEETING DATES — Set June 8 and 22 for next month's meetings rather than the first and third Thursdays.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy was absent.

Assault Suspect

Gary Van Collins, 31, of 386 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, was booked into county jail early today by police on suspicion of assault and battery after Leora B. Jones, 31, of the same address, reported he had struck her repeatedly. The right side of her face was red, police reported, when officers were called to their residence at 1:03 a.m.

Crash Victim Gets $174,000

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Federal Judge George B. Harris awarded $174,000 yesterday to a San Pablo woman who was crippled for life when her car collided with a postal truck.

Mrs. Pilar L. Thompson, 39, the mother of three, had sued for $750,000 as a result of the accident, which occurred four years ago.

She has had her left leg amputated below the knee, has a fractured right leg which has not healed; spinal, pains, headaches and numerous scars on her face and body.

Tools Stolen

A burglar who forced open a window to a storeroom stole an undisclosed number of tools from Diesel Engineering and Maintenance Co., 1702 Bridgeway, Sausalito, police reported yesterday.

Corsairs were pirates operating off the Barbary Coast.

Author Blasts Stalin Daughter

MOSCOW (AP) — Mikhail A. Sholokhov, holder of a Nobel Prize in literature, denounced Svetlana Alliluyeva in print today for her criticism of Soviet curbs on literary freedom.

Sholokhov linked Stalin's daughter with other such critics. Among these he named the American Central Intelligence Agency—CIA — and Alexander F. Kerensky, the Russian premier overthrown by the 1917 Bolshevik revolution who now lives in the United States.

Sholokhov, a member of the Communist party Central Committee and long a spokesman for a hard line on artistic issues, spoke yesterday at a national congress of Soviet writers in the Kremlin. His remarks were printed today in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper.

Five Men Get Sentences For Drunken Driving

Five men were sentenced in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Michael Edward Finn of 111 Rafael Drive, San Rafael, was given four days in county jail and placed on two years probation. Sheriff's officers arrested him April 3 on Tiburon Boulevard. He had a prior conviction.

Severance J. Merrill, 65, of 53 Manzanita Avenue, Fairfax, was fined $230 and placed on a year's probation. Fairfax police arrested him on Wreden Avenues on Dec. 15.

Roderick Brian O'Donnell Jr., 27, San Francisco, was fined $250 and placed on a year's probation. Sausalito police arrested his March 19 on Bridgeway.

Milton G. Azevedo, 39, of 17 Alta Vista Avenue, Mill Valley, was given two years probation and fined $289. He was arrested April 17 on East Blithedale Avenue by Mill Valley police.

Marsden Russell Jakeway, 60, of 247 D Street, San Rafael, was fined $230 and placed on a year's probation. California Highway Patrol arrested him May 18 on Highway 101.

Anti-Execution Poll Plan Dies

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An Assembly committee has turned thumbs down on a proposal to poll voters in June, 1968, on the question of whether to abolish capital punishment in California.

The bill failed to win a second yesterday to send it out of committee with a favorable recommendation.

An opponent, Negro Assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco, said such a poll would be a race issue — almost as much as Prop. 14." He didn't elaborate.

B-B Vandal Hits Windows Again

B-B gun vandals are still active in San Rafael. Police today reported two more cases of windows broken by someone with a pellet gun, believed to be shooting from a moving car.

Vera S. Church of 16 Pico Court reported someone fired a pellet through her front window at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. She heard the window break and looked out but saw no one on the street. She said the same window had been holed the same way Sunday.

Another pellet damaged a 24-square foot window at 889 Las Pavadas Avenue, home of Lilias A. Edger. The damage was reported Wednesday, but Edger did not know when the vandalism occurred.

Mental Health Center Must Overcome Hurdles

The road toward the construction of a mental health facility at Marin General Hospital has been a thorny one. It has been filled with ruts and obstacles.

About a decade ago when the idea of psychiatric treatment facilities at Marin General first drew serious attention, the voters reacted by turning down the bond issue by overwhelming vote.

But the idea of providing mental health care close to homes, where patients can remain in contact with the family doctor as well as the psychiatrist, is still a sound and effective approach.

This local care approach is therefore inevitable, despite the many obstacles.

The new Community Mental Health Center will cost more than $1.5 million and provide only 28 beds for full time psychiatric treatment. The cost is obviously high, especially when compared with the cost of Ross General Hospital's psychiatric wing.

Dr. Clyde G. Miller, county mental health services director, has indicated his expectation that Ross General Hospital's psychiatric services will be discontinued in 1968 or 1969. We find his expectation most curious, if not incredible.

There are about 300 mental patients in state hospitals from Marin County. The trend of psychiatric care is to provide treatment of patients near their homes, preferably in local general hospitals or in mental facilities provided in conjunction with general hospitals. In the years ahead, Marin can expect more pressure to provide local facilities for the care of these 300 patients.

If the new Community Mental Health Center at Marin General can accommodate only 28 full-time patients, obviously facilities at Ross General will be needed for a long time to come.

When Dr. James M. Stubblebine served as head of Ross Hospital's psychiatric unit and when he served on the board of trustees of Tamalpais High School District, he established a reputation for speaking plainly on sensitive matters.

Now, in his position as director of San Francisco's community mental health services, he was invited to meet with county supervisors and directors of Marin Hospital District to discuss the future operation of the new mental health center at Marin General Hospital. He lived up to his reputation for plain talk.

Dr. Stubblebine noted that distrust and personality problems, if allowed to affect the planning of mental health administration, could "gum up the works."

He recommended that the hospital provide services for all patients under a clinical director. This would enable the director of community mental health services to concentrate on planning and prevention.

Dr. Stubblebine's frank appraisals deserve to be heeded and implemented.

Apparently the road toward completion of the Community Mental Health Center will be no smoother than it has been so far.

Those responsible for solving such problems as high cost, administrative jealousies and personality clashes will face difficulties and perhaps even despair.

But all their efforts and sacrifices will be justified by the benefits the community will derive in better, more effective psychiatric services in a modern treatment center, close to home.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

William Patrick's Name Keeps Popping Up In Unlikely Places

By WAT TAKESHITA

The diversified activities of William Penn Patrick, youthful San Rafael cosmetics executive, continue to surprise and baffle those who are wondering what makes him tick.

Last year out of nowhere, Patrick jumped into the race for Governor, snubbing regular party channels.

Takeshita

Then he turned up as the man behind the move to buy the courthouse property in the heart of San Rafael.

Now he acknowledges he is helping finance a recall campaign in Idaho. He had several thousand recall petitions printed at Translucent Forms Co. of San Rafael for circulation in Idaho.

TRANSLUCENT FORMS is closely tied in with Patrick and his Holiday Magic cosmetics firm. Patrick has 90 per cent of his printing work done at Translucent, and Translucent in turn depends on Patrick for the bulk of its business.

And the financial backers of Sierra National Bank, which took over Tiburon National, are said to be the ones who backed Patrick in his cosmetics venture.

On foreign affairs, Patrick urges all-out bombing of North Vietnam, blockade of Haiphong harbor, and unleashing Chiang Kai-shek against North Vietnam.

Because of his dismal showing in the gubernatorial race last year, most observers give Patrick little or no chance for success in the 1968 political arena.

But with his amazing business successes, and the way he keeps popping up in unexpected places, you just can't count him out.

JAMES REED, one of Assemblyman Bill Bagley's aides in Sacramento, was involved in a minor traffic accident in Sacramento shortly before the Assemblyman suffered a whiplash.

Reed was hit by a car containing two topless dancers (they were fully clothed at the time).

"We were taken in the same ambulance to the same hospital, which was okay," recalls Reed. "The trouble was, at the hospital, the doctor wouldn't pay any attention to me."

THE MARIN REPUBLICAN Council will hold its annual picnic on Saturday, June 17, at Angel Island. Members and friends who want to attend should bring lunches and $1 for ferry transportation, which starts at the Tiburon Dock Restaurant at 10 a.m.

THERE'S AN organized campaign to use car headlights as a symbol of peace, beginning Memorial Day. The idea is for those who protest the war in Veitnam to turn on their car headlights at all times.

We have a hunch the scheme will backfire in certain cases. Even the most peace-loving driver is likely to turn hopping mad if he parks his car, forgets to turn off his lights, and returns to find the car with a dead battery.

10 YEARS AGO

Bank of America called for bids to construct a new bank building at Fifth Avenue and B Street, San Rafael, and remove the old B Street School.

The Washington Senators sold outfielder Karl Olson of Fairfax to the Boston Red Sox for an undisclosed sum.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Appeal For Diplomacy In Mid-East Crisis

Editor, Independent-Journal:

AN OPEN LETTER TO ALL MY MARIN NEIGHBORS:

In the spirit of ecumenical openness I share with you my troubled feeling with regard to the current Middle East Crisis.

I am troubled for my people, the household of Israel wherever they may be, for after the Nazi Holocaust which destroyed six million Jews (and millions of Christians as well) I cannot take with equanimity a threat to destroy two million more and to destroy peace in so sensitive a region as the Near East.

Israel, established by the sacrifice of Jewish pioneers, by the United Nations, and by world opinion was invaded by five armies within 24 hours of her Declaration of Independence in violation of the U. N. Charter. Since the end of that war Israel has been the target of almost unremitting border violence also in violation of U. N. Truce agreements. At various intervals she has had to use force to discourage these border attacks, but on the whole, I feel in my conscience I can honestly say that she has used selfrestraint to an astonishing degree considering the provocation.

Now she is faced again with a dire threat to her survival because of naked aggression by her neighbors. I am appealing for help to all men of good will and justice, particularly my colleagues of the clergy who have shown such sensitive and courageous leadership in the field of social action.

Will you wire President Johnson, our senators and representative urging them to exert the full force of U. S. Diplomacy to avert war in the Middle East? I pray that you will help in this way, and that you will feel inwardly moved to share this concern with others.

The State of Israel is people. Some of them my own and my wife's flesh and blood. Some of them to use Ezekiel's phrase "brands plucked from the fire" of the concentration camps. All of them are trying to build a life of dignity, freedom and democracy. They are worthy of the concern of all good men.

Gulf Oil Claim Is Most Unjust

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am writing in regard to one of your readers, Warren Glass of Wolfback Ridge, Sausalito. He has a law suit pending against him, brought by a former lawyer for Gulf Oil Co. who claims damages which he claims occurred while Glass was attempting to protect his private road leading into his property. Glass is a man of integrity, honesty — hard working to provide a home for his family (wife and six boys under the age of 20 years).

This claim, in my opinion, is unjust and unreasonable, and has wrought undue anxiety and concern to his whole family. I am weary of the power of money crowding the worthy individual into positions that mar his life and efforts at making an honest living and from taking his place as a contributing citizen in his community. Any light on this matter you may provide for your readers will be earnestly appreciated.

Was Second World War Any 'Cleaner'?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re Mrs. G. Smith's letter in the I-J of May 23, the power emerging from our guns in Vietnam, like the use of napalm and incendiaries, is of course the same as that which we employed in World War II. Which again constrains me to ask, did Mrs. Smith protest its use then, or was that "different" — a "clean" war, perhaps? And in the unhappy event that efforts to settle the current crisis in the Middle East fail, is it just possible that this same power, or the threat of its use, may be necessary to save Israel from Mr. Nasser's Soviet tanks and the "Palestine Liberation Organization," which, according to its leader Ahmed Shukairy, has been equipped (like the Vietnamese "National Liberation Front") by the Chinese Communists? Is it indeed possible that the crisis in the Middle East may have some connection with Chou-En-lai's assertion that Israel is the principal "bastion of imperialism" in the Middle East, and the assertion of Chen Yi that "the world needs not just one Vietnam, but three or four . . . and we are going to get them"?

And as to my affirmation of the right to dissent (an affirmation which Mr. Smith considers superfluous in light of the First Amendment), did the First Amendment spare a lot of people discomfiture during the heyday of the late Senator McCarthy? Or was that "different"? And if there is nothing to worry about, why then such a monumental flap by those who insist that efforts are being made to suppress their right of dissent on Vietnam? And what of Senator Fulbright's own assertion (on April 27) that General Westmoreland has neither the competence "nor the right" to discuss U.S. policy in Asia? Isn't this a rather strange attitude for one who has accused the President of "hypocrisy" — or is that, too, "different."

But at least Mr. Smith signs his letters. I only wish that those anonymous persons who have ventilated their wrath in unsigned letters sent to my home also had the courage of their convictions.

Marincello Design Talent Questioned

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I noted in a recent article where Planning Commissioners Stoller and Praszker were curious as to who was presently involved in the design of the Marincello project.

When this development was first presented to the county there was a very impressive list of architects and other planning consultants presented as being responsible for various design aspects of the project.

The Frouge Corporation's reply to the planning commission as to who was now involved in this design did not contain any of the original firms listed as near as I can determine.

During hearings on this development I recall someone describing this distinguished panel of designers as "window dressing." Would it be possible for you to find out whether these original firms are presently retained? Or have we been slickered again?

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

AN IMPATIENT lady in Purchase, New York, was flagged for speeding by a motorcycle cop recently, who demanded to see her license and registration card. Noting that well-known and benevolent bigshot of the town, he let her off with a warning, and handed back her cards along with a batch of trading stamps. "No, ma'am," he explained with some embarrassment. "We're not giving out stamps to traffic offenders this season. These were stuck to your license."

JACK PAAR recalls, as one of the low points in his career, the evening the Duchess of Windsor sought him out at a soiree to demand, "Aren't you that amusing man I see on television when I stay up late enough?" Paar, gratified, admitted he had been identified correctly. "Then you're the one who can tell me," nodded the Duchess. "Is the Roller Derby fixed?"

BARBRA STREISAND cites the case of a poor fellow who got so tired of doing the wash, cleaning the house, and cooking his own dinner every night that he took a deep breath and popped the question. He asked his wife for a divorce.

Greatest Need In U.S. Today Is To Calm Down, End Violence

WASHINGTON — The greatest need in the United States today is to calm down.

Whether it is Vietnam or racism or poverty, emotions and temper and, indeed, animus towards each other — these are getting out of hand. It's time to step back before it's too late.

The need is to de-escalate the use of violence, indeed to sheathe it completely, as a means of political protest.

It does more harm than good and, if allowed to mount, it will damage, delay, and in the end destroy every political and social reform it seeks to further.

VIOLENCE is in the atmosphere and it is perilous to national health.

Here are the headlines from the front page of one day's conservatively made-up newspaper: "Shot Kills Texas Policeman In Riot At A Negro College"; "Hong Kong Erupts In More Rioting"; "Students In Madrid Rip Franco Photos."

I am not equating violence in Hong Kong and Madrid with violence in Houston — but it is well to look at them together. Government-controlled rioting is an instrument of diplomacy with the Communists and with the Chinese Communists it seems to be a way of life.

In any repressive or dictatorial regime, whether in China or Russia or Hungary or Spain, where the rights of free speech, free assembly, and free elections are either denied or greatly limited, resort to violence is understandable.

BUT IN A FREE society like ours where every minority has a full range of methods to make itself into a majority, including free speech, peaceful assembly, and the ballot, resort to violence is unjustified, an enemy of democracy, a menace to freedom and order.

In recent months violence has been directed at Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, during a speech on the campus at Brown University; students at Stanford University attacked the automobile driving Vice-President Hubert Humphrey, and violence by a student minority prevented General Lewis B. Hershey from delivering a speech he had been invited to make at Howard University in Washington, D. C.

THE INEVITABLE publicity which has attended the resort to violence in the United States has undoubtedly given it an appearance of size larger than it has in reality. But it is becoming all too widespread, all too frequent to allow it to go on without pausing to ask ourselves: just what are we doing? Is violence to become an accepted ingredient in the United States of America? Is it to become a part of the political process of the nation?

I believe that the answer of most Americans will be no. But it is not going to be enough just to say no and hope that violence will go away.

IT WON'T. It has become too pervasive and too intoxicating to those who think they can practice violence against others today and not be the victims of it tomorrow.

Stokely Carmichael, who preaches violence and law violation, has said that he is going to make the nation's capital his target all summer long. At his latest press conference President Johnson reported that his aides had been making special studies across the country and had found potentially explosive situations in San Francisco, New York, Chicago, Baltimore, the District of Columbia, and five other unnamed cities.

Those who reject violence can do most to prevent it by supporting whatever needs to be done to deal constructively with the social conditions which tempt some to resort to violence.

WE WILL be aiding those who want to tear our society apart by violence if we neglect the grievances which need to be redressed.

France's Nuclear Tests Worry U.S.

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — France's decision to use balloons in its atomic tests at Murunoa Atoll, near Tahiti in the South Pacific, is causing concern among U.S. authorities.

Efforts by the State Department to obtain details on how the balloons will be controlled have been ignored by the French. The tests are scheduled to begin next month . . .

PREDICTIONS — Deputy Undersecretary Cyrus Vance will soon resign because of a persistently ailing back. Although only 50, Vance's back, injured while playing hockey at school, has become so painful he has difficulty walking. He is highly regarded by President Johnson and Secretary McNamara, and has been considered the latter's successor if and when he stepped out.

Clif White, the astute young politico who masterminded Goldwater's nomination and then was sidetracked by him in the election campaign, will join Romney forces in a key role, even though the Michigan governor did not support the 1964 nominee. . . A far-reaching "total-pay" system for the armed forces will be submitted by the Defense Department to Congress in the near future. It has been long in preparation and it's about ready for unfurling. . .

THE FEDERAL Communications Commission will reaffirm its previous approval of the merger of ABC and ITT. The recent FCC hearings on this controversial consolidation — strongly opposed by congressional liberals and some elements in the Justice Department—changed no votes on the commission. Whether reapproval of the merger will lead to an anti-trust suit remains to be seen.

Rep. James Fulton, R-Pa., a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, is deeply concerned about the build-up of Soviet arms in Cuba.

RECALLING HIS futile efforts in July 1962 to alert the Kennedy administration to the Russian arms build-up that led to the October Cuban missile crisis, Representative Fulton declared:

"The recent increase in Soviet arms shipments to Cuba can be compared to the build-up which took place about three months before the 1962 Cuban missile crisis.

"After returning from an inspection visit at our naval base at Guantanamo Bay, I tried then to warn of the massive shipment of Russian arms to Cuba. Administration officials either refused to listen or discounted my information.

"THE STORY is being repeated today. There is evidence of a substantial increase in Soviet ships and arms arriving in Cuba. Officials are again trying to discount this build-up.

"Castro has our naval base ringed with artillery and short-range rockets. This build-up could be a forerunner to an attack on that base."

On April 25 the House Foreign Affairs Committee was told that 70 Soviet bloc ships, including between 30 and 40 Russian, unloaded arms in Cuba during one seven-day period in April.

SINCE THESE vessels discharged their cargo, another twenty Soviet bloc ships have unloaded additional military equipment including MIGs, tanks, trucks and quantities of artillery ammunition.

Councilman Likes Green City But Suffers From The Pollen

Politicans are a hardy lot, used to barbs and battles, but a little pollen makes one Mill Valley city councilman a very unhardy guy.

By the cruelest twist of chance, the victim is Dean Meyer, renowned for his campaign slogan, "Keep Mill Valley Green." Now he wanders through spring searching for large paved areas free of oak trees, grass and weeds — the sort of things that keep Mill Valley green.

"I have gone now for almost 40 years and never had an allergy," he said through a sniffle, "but two weeks ago I developed a very severe allergy to almost everything on the hillsides." Meyer was out inspecting trails with City Mgr. Bert Balmer "when the allergy came to a head," he explained, "and when I got home I hardly could see or breathe.

"I suppose it will clear up in a few weeks, but I've decided to stick to concrete for a little while." Moving to Arizona, Meyer's doctor advised him, will do no good since he then would have to contend with sagebrush pollen.

MEYER'S EXPLANATION that he is suffering from an allergy will comfort persons who thought he was a bit too tearful at recent council meetings.

Meyer figures he has three years to find a cure for his allergy; his term on the council expires in 1970, in the spring, in the height of the pollen season. Noting his last campaign found him trooping through gardens all over the city, Meyer asked that anyone with a cure contact him. At least by 1970.

FEW PERSONS SEEM to take pride in anything beyond their property lines, but a Mill Valley couple have kept up a city planter island near their home at the entrance to Scott Valley for two years.

Olive and Vico Canonica, of 4 Vasco Drive, volunteered to water and care for the island when the city built and planted it. "This is the best maintained planter in the city (no reflection on our maintenance crew)," said City Engineer Stanley Bala recently. The Canonicas not only water, weed and rake it, he noted, but they also replace dead plants.

The Canonicas moved here six years ago from Seattle. Mr. Canonica, 72, had a restaurant there, and his wife grew chrysanthemums.

Marin's wind and tough hillside soil make for poor chrysanthemum growing, she said, "so we're working instead on the planter." Soil instead on the planter."

SOME MILL VALLEYANS noted with pride last week that a citizen came to the aid of a woman who was being attacked in a coin laundry. What was not noted with pride is the fact that many residents heard the victim's screams, yet did not go to her aid nor call police.

A GAME OF MUSICAL chairs was held this week for principals of Mill Valley Schools, and most of them were bumped from schools they had been in for many years. One found himself without any chair, although he may be offered one of the two left vacant.

MILL VALLEY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE'S campaign to suspend parking meter regulations on Saturdays is hard to reconcile with a finding by the city's "701" planning consultants that 59 per cent of the metered parking spaces downtown were empty on a recent Saturday.

In fact, there rarely is a parking problem — for the motorist willing to park as much as half a block off the main drag. Merchants woes, perhaps, cannot be blamed on a parking problem.

ART BUCHWALD

Senator Dodd May Be Lucky He Isn't Defended By Garrison

WASHINGTON — Sen. Russell Long, the Senate whip, has become Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's most avid defender, revealed last week that Eberhardt Deutsch, "one of the greatest trial lawyers of all time," had offered his services free of charge to get Senator Dodd out of the pickle he's in with his Senate colleagues over the ethics issue.

Senator Long also revealed that at one time Jim Garrison, the New Orleans district attorney, had volunteered his services to help Sen. Dodd, but since Garrison became so involved in his own version of the Kennedy assassination, Senator Long said, "I wouldn't presume to call on him now."

I CAN'T HELP thinking, on the basis of his performance in the past few months, that the fact that Garrison is tied up is probably the best break Senator Dodd has had so far. You wonder how Garrison would have defended Senator Dodd if he had the chance.

First, Garrison would probably call a press conference and announce he was going to subpoena all six members of the Senate Ethics Committee to testify before a grand jury.

"Why are you going to do that?" he would be asked.

"Because I believe there's a definite conspiracy between the Senate committee, the CIA, the FBI and Oswald. I can't reveal more than that at this moment."

"But what would that have to do with Sen. Dodd?"

"NOTHING, but it has a lot to do with Cuba. I can assure you there will be a conviction if I have anything to say about it."

"Mr. Garrison, Senator Dodd has been charged with using $116,000 raised at political testimonial dinners for his own personal use. How do you plan to answer that?"

"That $116,000 was not a money figure but was a code used by the ethics committee to contact certain people in Dallas. If you subtract 23,456 from that figure and then add all the odd pages in the World Almanac and then divide this by the days in the month of May, you'll discover that the number you arrive at corresponds exactly with Jack Ruby's telephone number."

"But this doesn't answer the charge that the testimonial dinners were advertised as political events and the people who attended them did not know they were paying off Dodd's personal debts."

"I WILL PRODUCE witnesses who have undergone hypnosis and who will testify they knew in advance what kind of dinners they were attending. Only someone under hypnosis knows the real truth about these affairs."

"What else will you do, Mr. Garrison?"

"I plan to issue warrants for the arrest of the four ex-employes who stole Senator Dodd's correspondence and I will prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that they all had a party two weeks before Dodd fired them. I will also produce as a key witness a narcotics addict who will swear that he saw Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson in a heated discussion with David Ferrie just days before Senator Dodd gave his fifth testimonial dinner.

"You sound like you've got a solid case."

"I do, and anyone who says I don't will be indicted for perjury."

"Then from what you say this thing is much bigger than just an ethics question in the Senate."

"It certainly is. I may have to indict the entire Senate before I'm finished, but I'll get to the bottom of this or I'm not the Jolly Green Giant."

I'M NOT SAYING this is exactly how Garrison would have handled Dodd's case, but on the basis of his track record so far, I think Senator Dodd can thank his lucky stars he got Eberhardt Deutsch instead.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

The First Tiburon Boulevard Was Pleasant Spot To Picnic

Fusselman

Perhaps I should first say that we have not been here 49 years. Forty-eight is the right number. I usually get in trouble when I count on my fingers.

Now let's consider the topography as it was before the State Highway Department started to relieve the Ross Valley towns of the congestion that was developing with better automobiles and better roads further north, both of which were increasing the traffic flow tremendously.

THERE WAS a very indifferent, narrow road running from Kentfield to the Richmond Ferry slips, which were slightly north of the present bridge. The road ran through the prison grounds. Cars were not inspected until the opposite gate was reached. All car trunks had to be unlocked for inspection.

In the days when women were confined there, if the trip through the grounds happened to be during the middle of the afternoon and one passed the long line walking along the road for their daily exercise period, there would be no question of their regard for the car driver. Man, it was rich, I can tell you.

Nothing today, by any of the most eloquent, could touch it.

There is an interesting, confusing duplication in the maps today.

"TIBURON BOULEVARD" we know as the road leading from the Alto Wye to Tiburon and Belvedere. But if you should be driving up Wolfe Grade from San Rafael and turn sharp left at the top, you would soon be on "Tiburon Boulevard." It runs along the ridge of Bret Harte Heights where you can look down on the Greenbrae development on one side and on the other San Pablo Bay. The road goes through the big stone gateway.

For a number of years, during nice weather, my wife and I would, after church, drive along that road and turn off to a spot which would be directly over the middle of 101. We would take along a hamper with our Sunday dinner, spread an Indian blanket we had brought from up north, have our meal and then each take one of the morning papers to read and loaf while a wonderful Irish Setter I had for five years could roam around safely.

THIS Tiburon Boulevard hugged the hill, meandering over next to the railroad right of way and bridge—across the creek and on to what is now called Paradise Drive, east from Corte Madera.

The first phase of relieving the towns was to grade a two lane road and cut, south from San Rafael, with a lift bridge over the Corte Madera Creek —along and up Alto Hill and down to the bottom with a right hand turn to an intersection with the Corte Madera Hill road, then following the same alignment to Sausalito.

A turn-off south from the Kentfield-San Quentin road onto 101 drew the traffic from San Geronimo, Fairfax, San Anselmo, Ross and Kentfield away from Larkspur and Corte Madera.

THIS WAS all grazing land and kite flying hills—no development. Cars from the north came through San Rafael until the overpass was built—not through Ross Valley.

There was a death trap for north bound cars going to Ross Valley. The ones coming down the hill wouldn't give them a break.

The first Richardson Bay Bridge (a wooden structure) followed. Then the Golden Gate Bridge and Waldo Grade. The pattern was again to stay away from the communities with through traffic.

NEXT WEEK I will make a recommendation on Route 17.

The queen this year will receive many gifts in addition to the honor of reigning over all of the events of the celebration.

She will receive a variety of clothing, shoes, a silver bracelet and a bouquet of red roses.

The first and second runners up will receive trophies, $10 gift certificates and fashion hair pieces.

County Supervisor William A. Gnoss will crown the queen.

Rufus Reed, folk singer, and Leonard McCormick, pianist, will furnish music for the entertainment.

Queen contestants are Lori Zimmer, Patti Villa, Robin Wisgerhof, Corine Bobo, Janice Kimbell, Vicki Miller, Nancie Kimbell, Lynette Bobo, Sarah Tandy, and Janice Padgett.

Salin Plans For Distant, Speedy Trip

Lothar Salin of San Rafael, senior vice president of Toastmasters International, will cram two continents and some 10,000 miles into a nine-day trip next month combining Toastmasters' business and vacation.

Salin, of 15 Ross Street, will fly to Houston June 2 for a seminar with newly-elected Toastmaster district governors on management techniques.

He will fly from Houston to New York for a quick meeting with the Toastmasters public relations council and then — still on June 3 — fly to Glasgow, Scotland, where on June 4 he will meet with the Toastmasters Council of the British Isles.

After that, Salin will take a brief holiday in Switzerland to visit his father, a retired professor in Basel.

On June 9, he will fly back for an all-day Toastmasters conference June 10 in Atlantic City, where he will again present the management seminar.

On June 11, Salin will jet to San Francisco and hop the bay to the Marin heliport to rejoin his family.

One can only hope his luggage can keep up.

What Health Dollar Buys

Health costs are rising. From 1964 to 1965, health costs rose 9.5 per cent. Hospitals received the largest share, about 30 cents of every health dollar; doctors came next, with 27.7 cents of every health dollar going to the physician. Next came drugs, taking 16.4 cents, dentists, 9.6 cents, health insurance 7.7 cents, appliances, 4.4 cents, and miscellaneous expenses about 4.9 cents.

Despite these rises, health care represented only about 6.5 per cent of personal spending in 1965. The rest of your income if you were average went like this: About 20 per cent for food, another 20 per cent on care and maintenance of your home, 9 peer cent on clothing, accessories and jewelry, just under 3 per cent on maintenance of possessions and 2.5 per cent for transportation and communications. HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Fink On A Friend For Fun And Profit' Suggests Campus Thinker

DEAR HELEN:

The girl who told her mother anyone could get dope at her school was either bluffing her on how much she knew, or else not telling what she really knew. She'd probably clam up if the authorities questioned her. I know, because I've taken the stuff pushers sell around school. After seeing your column on dope, I turned "fink," and for the last week I've had threats that would shock you, but I'm still glad I "got out," and asked help.

If you ever get involved in this it's really tough getting out without the pushers giving you a bad time. That's one of the bad parts. The other is—maybe you won't get hung on dope, but you meet the worst kind of people if you're on it. Your morals will drop and soon you will get so mixed up and fed up with life you don't care what happens to you. I thought "Speed" was a harmless stimulant that made me fell high, but how about the "low" times that follow So you buy more to prevent the low times, and soon you don't know what you're doing. That'sw hat the pusher wants. He gets richer when kids get confused.

I just want to tell today's youth: Don't play with dope! Hippies aren't groovy. They are terrified of life, themselves and their future. — ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR HELEN:

Fink on the drug pushers? You've gotta be kidding. Who would believe that at our school the gal who distributes the "pot" is the daughter of a big city official? Who, that is, but the other students, who aren't talking!—NOT ON THE REEFS

P.S. Didn't you know the teen code of honor is, "Keep your trap shut."

DEAR NOT:

Why don't you try the drug squad and see what they believe?—H.

P.S. Only fools keep quiet where drug-pushing is concerned. Look kids, this isn't cheating on tests or puffing a cigarette in the girls washroom. It's crime on the campus and if you don't tell what you know, you're helping it grow. A misguided sense of "honor," or a shrugged, "Who'd believe me?" might eventually lead to a death. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

The income tax bureau gives rewards to people who inform on tax evaders. Maybe if the police paid for information about campus drug sellings, they'd get more action. —THINKER

DEAR THINKER:

"Fink on a friend for fun and profit?" Surely there's a better way. Like a thorough school education program on the effects and dangers of illegal drugs . . . and how that label "non-addictive" can lead a teen into more trouble than he can handle. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Funny thing, I keep hearing "Anybody can get drugs," but when I pin people down, it's always hearsay. I wonder if the "pot" and LSD panic is like the college sex revolution: a lot more talk than action? —STUDENT

DEAR HELEN:

My Dad has a saying he always uses when I do something dumb —"Well, how did they taste?" He means the "Stupid" pills, which is a family joke. We're supposed to laugh, but it gets embarrassing when he says it in front of company about little things like tripping over somebody's foot.

How can you tell someone you love that he's running a good thing into the ground? —E.M.E.

DEAR E.:

Ask your mother to slip him a "smart" pill, honey. —H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. she will also also welcome amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

'IN, CROWD

Popularity Of Teen Smoking Related To School Leaders

NEW YORK — Fact: Teenagers spend $10 million a week on cigarettes.

Fact: Young people are smoking just as much now as they did before the U.S. Surgeon General's report (on smoking and danger to health) came out three years ago.

Why do young people take up smoking, despite the warnings all around them of the health hazards involed?

One survey of high school teens shows several reasons—a leading one being that "many (of them) have not been convinced of the health hazards involved."

"THEY KNOW, and up to a point believe, the evidence but the prospect of contracting emphysema or lung cancer 40 or 50 years in the future seems pretty remote. And, you have to die from something, don't you?"

Findings on teen, or "mini-smokers," are discussed in the current "Scholastic Roto," a supplement for high school publications.

The publication questioned 459 students in 16 high schools around the country. It found that 38 per cent of them smoke (44 per cent of the boys, 33 per cent of the girls), or just as many now "as before the Surgeon General' rseport."

The estimated $10 million per week spent is a record, said the publication, and it found that 14 per cent are spending $1 to $1.99 per week, another 15 per cent $2 to $2.99. The average, if they smoke regularly, is about $1.50 per week.

THEIR REASONS broke down this way: Relieves tension, said 52 per cent. For enjoyment said 45 per cent. Sixteen per cent said smoking also gave them "something to do with our hands" and a few, seven per cent, said smoking made them feel more confident or it was "the thing to do."

The students have had the "benefit of more complete knowledge about cigarettes than any previous generation," said the publication. "They have evidence of health dangers...but it doesn't make any difference...

"Virtually every student interviewed... ad read statistics citing smoking as a cause of lung cancer (many, however, did not think it has anything to do with heart disease), had seen a film, read a pamphlet, or heard a lecture on the subject...

"GROUPS LIKE the American Cancer Society and the U.S. Public Health Service spend millions of dollars a year to dispense anti-smoking information...but they're not getting through."

According to the publication, "anti-smoking literature often points out that adults—especially parents—set a bad example for young people." But the students interviewed rarely mentioned parents as influencing them to smoke. On the contrary, 41 per cent had been forbidden to smoke and 32 per cent had been discouraged by their parents. Twenty-seven per cent said parents told them "it's up to you."

LEADING influences were friends, 56 per cent, "everybody does it," 11 per cent, and older brothers and sisters, nine per cent. Popularity of smoking varied from school to school, but the survey found a direct relationship to the "in" crowd. If the school leaders and the VIPs smoked, a higher than average portion of the student body also smoked.

The non-smoking students were well aware of smoking hazards. Of this group, 57 per cent listed "dangerous to health," 32 per cent "unpleasant taste," 29 per cent "too expensive" and 22 per cent, "parents forbid."

Sharp Flying

Miniskirst or ermine? Either could be in prospect for the 1500 British European Airways stewardesses and ground hostesses for whom new uniforms will be designed. Your might say they'll be dressed to suit a queen. The airline has chosen Queen Elizabeth's couturier, Hardy Ames, to say what they will wear in the years ahead. In a poll of staff, sentiment for miniskirts was seen creeping up.

Don't Display Gown

Do not exhibit your wedding gown to anyone except your immediate family. That's a way to surprise all the others when you walk down the aisle. The admiring comments that reach your ears will make the wedding an even more memorable day.

Buying Trousseau?

When buying your trousseau, consider not only what your own taste is, but what your husband's feelings are about clothes. Unless something is glaringly extreme, most men notice color more than silhouette or fabric. Choose the colors he likes best on you. Generally these colors are more flattering.

'Happening' A Tale Of Hedonism

By LES DARD

Here's what's on tap this fine weekend around Marin area theaters:

TAMALPIAS THEATER

Doris Day stars in a mixed-up whirl of romance and wild adventure that fits its title admirable: "Caprice," now showing.

Doric plays an industrial spy for a British cosmetics firm.

Richard Harris co-stars. Handling is colorful and ingenious.

NORTHGATE THEATER

"The Happening" is now on screen, a very contemporary tale that features Anthony Quinn, George Maharis, Michael Parks, Robert Walker, Martha Hyer and Faye Dunaway.

The story essentially involves four young hedonists who flee a police raid on their all-night party and soon find themselves kidnapping prosperous community-leader Quinn and demanding ransom.

101 DRIVE-IN

"Is Paris Burning?" is now playing, with a big-name cast that features Charles Boyer, Jean-Paul Belmondox, Alain Delon, Leslie Caron, Gert Frobe, Orson Wells, George Chakiris, Kirk Douglas, Robert Stack, Yves Montand, Simone Signoret, Jean-Pierre Cassels and Anthony Perkins.

NOVATO THEATER

Top-flight performances, location filming in the world's spy capital, and an intricate plot are all reasons why "Funeral in Berlin" is excellent spy fare. Another big reason is Cockney star Michael Caine.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Lynn Redgrave stars in "Georgy Girl," a British story of a girl whose large, awkward form hides a sensitive, loving soul.

RAFAEL THEATER

Who can forget "The Shaggy Dog" and "The Absent Minded Professor," two of Walt Disney's most beloved productions. Well, they're back and now on screen here.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"Hotel" takes us to New Orleans and the ultra-plush St. Regis Hotel, where all manner of excitements are busy brewing and bubbling over.

Watch for excellent performances from Rod Taylor, Kevin McCarth, Catherine Speak, Karl Malden, Merle Oberon, Michael Rennie, Richard Conte and Carmen McRae.

MOTOR MOVIES

"In Like Flint" is the big new American spoof of the super-spy films.

James Coburn stars as Derek Flint, an indestructible international playboy - genius - business-man who is called in by a computer to save the world.

LARK THEATER

Currently reaping critical acclaim at the Cannes Fish Festival is "Blowup," the latest creation strictly for adults only, of famous Italian director Michelangelo Antonioni.

David Hemmings plays a mod fashion photographer in London. His principal trouble is confusing the world of reality and the world he thinks he sees. He gets involved in a crazy murder which is never really solved, but is an admirable vehicle to carry the director's ideas and from which to hang his incomparable technical competence.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"The Sound of Music" is still with us, probably the best family fare in town.

Julie Andrews stars as Maria, the postulant at a pre-World War II Austrian abbey who is sent to be governess for the seven motherless children of handsome Baron Von Trapp (Christopher Plummer). Her unflagging good nature somehow manages to transform the unruly brood into the world-famed Trapp Family Singers.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani is president of the San Anselmo Lions Club.

RITE OF SPRING ON A DAY IN MAY

A folk dancing festival at San Rafael's Coleman School yesterday was climaxed by a traditional Maypole dance by sixth grade girls. Other youngsters, and their parents, formed a relaxed audience for the winding of the streamers around the pole. The tradition of Maypole dances has been preserved through the years by Edwina Codoni, now principal of Coleman School, at a series of San Rafael elementary schools where she has served as principal. Police Say School Theft Cases Solved

San Rafael police today claimed vandalism and theft cases at three San Rafael schools earlier this month were solved yesterday with the citation of three San Rafael juveniles to the county juvenile probation office on burglary charges.

Schools entered on May 13 and 14 were Vallecitos School, Nova Albion School and Terra Linda High School. An amplifier and two loudspeakers were stolen from the high school, and a pair of cymbals was taken from Vallecito.

The father of one of the boys found the cymbals in his son's room this week and the boy admitted stealing them, police said.

The boys, two 15 and one 16, told slightly varying stories but San Rafael police pieced together this series of events:

The boys entered Nova Albion School early May 13 by slipping a door lock with a knife blade, and vandalized the school.

They then went to Vallecito and to the high school, entering the same way. On the afternoon of May 14, they entered Nova Albion with a key found earlier and took boxes of pencils and felt pens.

The cymbals were to be used for a combo one youth was trying to start. The loudspeakers were for another combo to which one of the boys belongs.

Police recovered the stolen property.

HABIT OF CHANGING HER HABIT CHANGED

A Mill Valley teen-age girl's habit of changing into a mini skirt after she left home for school each morning came to an abrupt end yesterday after a neighbor spotted the hippy clothing in its cache and called police.

The girl's mother was incredulous when police called to return the miniskirt which she had forbidden her daughter to wear.

Her daughter was dressed demurely when she left the house, but would stop at a redwood grove down the street, change, and proceed to school in the height of skirt fashion.

Impasse Committee On Tomales Named

Six members of an impasse committee that will attempt to resolve the problem of what to do about Tomales High School District were announced today by the Marin County superintendent of schools office.

The committee will hold a hearing at 8 p.m. June 14 at Tomales High School. It will recommend to the State Board of Education either (1) the four times-rejected proposal for unification of Tomales High School District with its component elementary districts, or (2) inclusion of Tomales High and the elementary districts in a Petaluma Unified School District.

The Marin County Committee recommended the Tomales unification. The combination with Petaluma is the proposal of the State Department of Education. Petaluma voters recently soundly whipped a proposal to unify their own high school and elementary districts.

Named to the impasse committee were Walf Oglesby of the State Department of Education; Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County superintendent of schools, and four members of county boards of education: James A. Carroll of Marin County, Mrs. Shirley Jacobsen of Mendocino County, A. Doyle Reed of Yolo County, and Mrs. Katherine Jackson of Humboldt County.

Library Boosters Elect In Sausalito

Sausalito Friends of the Library elected Sausalito psychiatrist James Mickle as president.

Other officers elected were Elise Stinson, first vice president; Libby Wax, second vice president; Richard L. Whitacker, and Dr. Burton Wise, treasurer.

Art Show To Fete Hub City's Birthday

About 30 artists are expected to take part in an outdoor art show on San Anselmo Avenue in San Anselmo from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow, part of the city's 60th anniversary celebration.

The San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce will award $50 worth of cash prizes. Primary grade children will exhibit arts and crafts done as part of the city recreation program.

Tiburon Sets Hearing On Zoning Ordinance

Tiburon Planning Commission set a public hearing for June 22 at 8 p.m. at City Hall on a proposed zoning ordinance, after a three-hour study session on the ordinance last night.

Commissioners will meet next Thursday at 8 p.m. at City Hall to study the downtown plan, announced Phil V. Scott, development administrator.

Window Broken

A vandal yesterday threw a rock through a bathroom window at the apartment of Hans Wich of 275 Canal Street, San Rafael police reported today.

Marijuana Possession Is Charged

A Hamilton Air Force Base airman was arrested by Novato police last night and charged with possession of marijuana.

His three companions, two airmen and the son of a serviceman, were released pending further investigation, police reported.

Booked into Marin County Jail with bail set at $1,100 was A/3c Robert William Ougheltree, 22, who lives in the barracks on the base.

Questioned by police, then released into the custody of their commanding officers and parents were A/1c Gerald Michael Aleshevich, 22, and A/3c Robert Lawrence Kaplan, 20, both living in the barracks, and Robert Michael Pinske, 19, son of M/Sgt. and Mrs. Louis Pinske of 190 San Jose Drive, Novato.

Patrolman Dan Thomas reported he found the four men in a car at the end of Carnoustie Drive at 10:53 p.m. Ougheltree, the driver and owner of the car, told Thomas that they were listening to stereo music. To prove it, he pulled the stereo player from under the front seat.

That dumped over a partially smoked pipe under the seat and bits of what Thomas thought was Marijuana spilled onto the floormats.

Police searched the car and reported finding an envelope containing marijuana, a large leaf of marijuana, and a folded paper containing three capsules of what police think may be LSD.

The lowest temperature ever recorded in the United States was a minus 76 degree reading at Tanana, Alaska in 1866.

Tire Blows, Car Careens Along Second Street

Willie Marie Fritz, 45, of 223 Redwood Drive, Ross, escaped with minor injuries early today when her car hit a concrete center divider in San Rafael, blew a tire, careened more than 150 feet, and hit a parked car and a telephone poll.

Both cars were a total loss, police reported. Mrs. Fritz was treated at Marin General Hospital for a bruised righe eye.

Mrs. Fritz was driving east on Second Street at 12:45 a.m. when her car hit the divider, continued for 46 feet, then veered right and hit a parked car owned by Bernard McQuade of 1859 Second Street, knocking it 40 feet across a lawn and onto West Street, police said. Mrs. Friaz's car then caromed into a telephone pole.

Fire Protection Budget Adopted

Tamalpais Fire Protection District commissioners last night adopted a final $144,773 budget for fiscal 1968, reported chairman Morris Batz.

Up from the current fiscal year's $134,464 Budget, the new budget may add one cent to the current tax rate of 94 cents, he said.

In a review of the Dias Ranch development, commissioners made it clear the developer, Alfred J. Stern of Palo Alto, will have to build a fire station for the district to man and equip. District taxpayers should not have to pay for a station they do not need, Batz said.

Annexation of the ranch to the fire district is to be considered by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

Novatan Held After Fray With Police

Cleo Collins, 40, of 719 Sun Lane, Novato, was jailed by San Rafael police last night on charges of being drunk, brandishing a weapon, and battery on a police officer.

Police impounded a .22 caliber pistol, a .30-.30 carbine, and a .22 caliber lever-action rifle from Collins's car.

The incident started, police reported, at 11 p.m. in the parking lot of Fairchild Semiconductor at 4800 Redwood Highway.

Police said a supervisor found Collins, an employee, was drunk, and got security guard Gene B. Thompson to help Collins to his car to sleep it off. At the car, according to Thompson, Collins drew his pistol and demanded, "Do you think I'm crazy?"

Thompson called police. Patrolman Donal Merkley said Collins swung at him.

The guns were found in the back of Collins's car.

Bail was set at $1,329. Collins was to appear in Marin County Municipal Court this afternoon.

Fourth Fairfax Citizen Quits Planning Body

The Dairfax Planning Commission, already operating with only four of its authorized seven members, was further straightened last night with the announced resignation of Mrs. Harold H. Taft.

Mrs. Taft made her resignation effective after the June 29 meeting.

The board accepted resignations of Robert Arrigoni, who is moving from Fairfax, and Kenneth M. Edgar.

A fourth commissioner, Martin L. Roth, moved from Marin last month.

Replacements for Arrigoni, Edgar and Roth are expected to be made by the June 29 meeting, secretary Mrs. Dell Blodgett said today.

The commission approved a budget reqdest of $2,500 for contract services for 1967-68, compared to the $3,050 for contract services this year.

A lot split asked by Ronn E Patterson for property at 72 Wood Lane was approved on condition Patterson bring up to building code requirements a small building on the property.

Santa Venetia School Prowled

Burglars apparently slipped a door lock early Wednesday to enter Gallinas School at 251 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, sheriff's officers said today.

The intruders took about a dozen children's books, deputies said, scattered other books and printed material through a main hall, drank two cans of soft drinks from a refrigerator, and cut a plastic cover of a small bed. The burglary was discovered by Joseph D. Thomas, janitor.

Mrs. Carol J. Haynes, 362 Pine Hill Road, Tamalpais Valley, told officers Wednesday that someone pried a dining room screen to enter her home. Nothing was believed taken.

Noel D. Vietmeyer of Berkeley reported yesterday that a $200 camera was stolen from his locked car, parked at McClure's Beach Sunday. A window was pried.

Outboard, Trailer Stolen From Lot

A 16-foot "Boston whaler" boat, its 80-horsepower outboard motor and 18-foot trailer, valued at a total of $3,000, were stolen from a parking lot at 68 Woodland Avenue night before last, San Rafael police reported today.

Owner of the equipment is John T. Boswell of 147 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael. He reported the boat was white with a blue interior, the trailer and engine painted white.

Today is Friday, May 26, the 146th day of 1967 with 219 to follow.

The moon is between the full phase and last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Born on this day in 1886 was American entertainer Al Jolson.

On this day in history:

In 1868, President Andrew Johnson was acquitted of impeachment charges, his opponents losing by one vote.

In 1945, U.S. B-29's hit Tokyo with 4,000 tons of bombs.

In 1954, more than 100 crew members of the aircraft carrier "Bennington" died when an explosion rocked the ship off the coast of Rhode Island.

In 1964, Prime Minister Nehru of India died at the age of 64.

A thought for the day — Greek philosopher Plato once said: "The beginning is the most important part of the work."

Revealing No Trump Bid Can Help Declarer Reach Pact

Experts sometimes use an overcall of two no trump to show five cards in each of the minor suits.

Used at the right time, this helps your side get to a good sacrifice or a sound contract in a minor suit. Used at the wrong time, such a bid reveals your distribution to the enemy.

BID TOO HIGH

West led the nine of spades, and South wished he hadn't bid so much. It was pretty obvious that West had the ace of clubs and that East had only one diamond. South needed a fair share of luck in addition to very skillful play.

Declarer played the ten of spades from dummy at the first trick. East shrewdly played low and South discarded a club.

South led a trump to the king and held his breath as he returned a trump. West's queen appeared and South could resume breathing.

IMPORTANT DISCARDS

Declarer continued with the ace of spades, discarding another low club, and then with the queen of spades.

East covered with the king and South ruffed. He returned to dummy with a trump to the jack and discarded twice more on the jack and eight of spades.

NO FOOL

Naturally, South wasn't foolish enough to throw away his last club; he needed the king of clubs for an important job later on. Instead, South threw two low diamonds.

South got to his hand with the king of diamonds and cashed the nine of trumps, reducing all hands to three cards. West had to hold two diamonds and the ace of clubs, whereupon South led the king of clubs to make West win the trick.

West had to return a diamond, and South made his slam by winning the last two tricks with the ace and jack of diamonds.

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

When your suits are of equal length bid the higher suit first even though the lower suit is far stronger.

Maddox Kills Radar Bill: 'Entrapment'

ATLANTA (UPI) —Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox has vetoed a bill that would have returned to cities and counties the right to use radar in traffic enforcement. Only the state patrol has that right.

Maddox gave several reasons for the veto, but one was personal. "I've been caught by these things four times and I'm convinced they can only be used as an entrapment," he said.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

ABC-TV Returning To Prime Time News Job

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — ABC's "Summer Focus" series, which promises to be the most worthy of video's vacation season replacement programs, last night presented a spot news special on the Middle East crisis.

In television terms, the broadcast was yet another signal from ABC-TV, with its increased news budget, that it intends to become more fully competitive with the larger CBS-TV and NBC-TV in public affairs programming.

In more general terms, one should not go overboard over the fact that a television network is doing what it should be doing in the first place. People do not—and should not—cheer when any news organization does the job it was created to do. However, all three video networks, until quite recently, have been somewhat lax in putting on the prime time spot news specials they used to rely on more heavily.

"Summer Focus," which has taken over the time slot of "ABC Stage 67," bowed in a week ago with an illuminating and stimualting transatlantic discussion, via satellite, of the responsibility of the press in the coverage of trials.

The Middle East program, an hour in length with a pungent summing up comentary by Edward P. Morgan, who soon will join educational television, was the result of an intelligent, late decision to pre-empt the broadcast originally scheduled.

This broadcast was "Dissent—or Treason?," which was to focus particularly on protests against the Vietnam war. ABC-TV says the pre-empted hour will be rescheduled.

For some reason, ABC-TV seems to have played down the fact that "Summer Focus" programs will be subject to last-minute pre-emptions for spot news broadcasts. This is nothing to be overly modest about. It is the sign of intelligent programming. Viewers should know there is a regular prime time place on ABC-TV where spot news can be expected to be presented in depth.

At present, in fact, ABC-TV, the smallest of the networks, is the only one that can claim to have one-and-a-half hours of regular prime time public affairs programming each week. In addition to "Summer Focus," there is the Saturday night series, called "ABC Scope," which is devoted entirely to the Vietnam war.

Despite financial considerations, it would be an act of foresight if ABC-TV saw fit to remove the seasonal reference in "Summer Focus" when fall rolls around, and decided to continue it on a year-round basis.

At any rate, the series is expected to offer us about 16 programs in its current run, about half of them repeats of top documentaries.

Next Thursday, for instance, it will present a rerun of "I, Leonardo Da Vinci," one of the hours of the "Saga of Western Man" series of John Secondari and Helen Jean Rogers.

Tonight, a new "Saga of Western Man" broadcast, "Cortez and the Legend"—about the 16th century conquest of Mexico—will be presented by ABC-TV. Kirk Douglas and David Carradine will be the key voices in this script of re-created history.

Reagan Crime Bill Extended

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has approved an extension of Gov. Ronald Reagan's anti-crime program, applying certain provisions to gang rape.

The Senate on a 34-0 vote yesterday sent to the Assembly a bill requiring 15 years to life imprisonment for anyone convicted of committing rape along with another man or "aiding and abetting" another person.

The governor last week signed his administration's bills requiring the same sentence for persons inflicting serious injury while committing rape, robbery or burglary.

Mother, Child Hurt In Crash

A mother and her 16-month-old daughter suffered minor injuries today at 12:15 a.m. when her westbound car swerved off Shoreline Highway, west of Dolan Drive, Tamalpais Valley, crashed into several mailboxes, and then snapped off a power pole.

Winnie Dale Pierucci, 18, of 301 Laurel Way, Mill Valley, was treated for bruises at Marin General Hospital, and her daughter, Tami Marie, had care for head bruises. Mrs. Pierucci's husband, also a passenger, was uninjured, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Temporary repairs were made to the power pole and no service was interrupted, according to Harold Kiemele, Pacific Gas and Electrical Co. electrical department foreman.

Burglary Suspect Due To Enter Plea

Edward F. Ulibarri, 32, of San Francisco, was to plead this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of burglary of the Oxford Shop at Northgate Shopping Center.

He was arraigned before Judge Peter Allen Smith yesterday. A co-defendant, John C. Benguidez, 32, also of San Francisco, is free on $3,300 bail to appear for arraignment at 1:30 p.m. Monday. They were arrested by San Rafael police after a security guard reported he chased them from the shop Wednesday night.

Yacht Club Tells Dredging Plans

Inverness Yacht Club has requested Army Corps of Engineers' approval of plans to dredge 16,000 cubic yards from its yacht basin and deposit the spoil in an adjacent area 195-by-250 feet.

The fill area would be behind bulkheads to be constructed on the club's waterfront property on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Balmoral Way.

Objections to the project may be filed with the Army engineers at 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco. Filings must be in triplicate and submitted by June 24, according to Lt. Col. Frank C. Boerger, district engineer.

Cage War Headed For Million Dollar Showdown

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Professional basketball's legal war flared into a million-dollar court showdown yesterday when two more National Basketball Association teams filed suits to try to block the jumping of stars to the new American Basketball Association.

The St. Louis Hawks filed companion suits in Federal District Court here to enjoin their rookie star, Lou Hudson, from playing with the Minnesota Muskies of the ABA. The hawks also seek $3 million damages.

The San Francisco Warriors filed suit in San Francisco seeking to prevent Clyde Lee from going to New Orleans of the ABA. The Warriors seek $1 million plus an unspecified amount of damages.

Previously, the Los Angeles Lakers of the NBA filed suit to attempt to stop Jim Barnes from going to Dallas of the ABA.

Hudson, runner-up to Detroit's Dave Bing in the NBA's Rookie-of-the-Year voting this past season, signed a three-year contract with Minnesota last week, reportedly for between $150,000 and $200,000. He is a former University of Minnesota player.

Lee, formr Vanderbilt All-America, reportedly has signed a two-year, $90,000 contract with New Orleans.

At issue is the reserve clause in NBA contracts, which the established league contends binds a player to a team for at least one year after he completes a contract.

The NBA's reserve clause is similar to that of baseball, but a crucial difference is that baseball enjoys immunity from the anti-trust laws under Supreme Court sanction. Basketball has no such solid legal support, and it is under the anti-trust laws that ABA attorneys will challenge the NBA contracts.

"I don't think pro basketball has a binding reserve clause," said Ed Cohen, Minneapolis attorney for Hudson. "For one thing, the NBA clause does not spell out any option for a player, as do National Footall League contracts."

The NBA reserve clause specifies that when a player's contract is expiring, he is offered a new contract by Sept. 1 of that year. If he does not sign by Oct. 1, the old contract is considered in effect for the coming year, with the player subject to a 25 per cent pay cut.

ABA Commissioner George Mikan said his league anticipated the suits, but predicted more players will switch to the ABA. He said five NBA players have signed with ABA teams.

Minnesota General Manager Ed Holman also expressed no surprise over the suit.

Lee was served his summons at the San Francisco airport where he touched down while en route from Nashville, Tenn., to Honolulu. Warriors' publicity man Bob Dean served it.

Wildcats Win Opener; Redwood Goes Tonight

The sound of those swinging, ringing Marin Catholic High School bats last Tuesday was not a sometime song.

The Widcats will try to take their second giant step toward successfully defending their Redwood Baseball Tournamrnt of Champions title today after whipping Santa Cruz, 6-1, behind another homer barrage and a whiz-job by pitcher Brian King at Albert Field last night.

The Wildcats, co-champions of the Marin County Athletic League, took on Hayward League champ San Lorenzo at 4 o'clock today in a quarter-final clash.

In other games tongiht, Alameda County champ Berkeley meets Ignacio Valley, Mount Diablo Valley champs, at 6 o'clock and MCAL co-champ Redwood tackles Skyline, champion of the Oakland Athletic League at 8.

An estimated crowd of 1,600 watched the Marin Catholic-Santa Cruz game and 2,100 were drawn throughout the day, counting all three games.

"It was the largest opening day crowd we've had," said Al Endriss, tourney director.

Marin Catholic, which had not hit a home run this season until coming up with two against San Rafael last Tuesday, doubled its output by producing two more blasts against Santa Cruz, accounting for four of its runs.

That was more than enough for King, who survived a shaky first inning in which he was greeted by a double and a single by the first two batters he faced.

Santa Cruz finally scored on an infield out in the first inning for a brief 1-0 lead but that was all they got off King.

The Cardinals got only one more hit and baserunner after that while King wound up with a three-hitter and eight strikeouts. That pushed his total of strikeouts for the season to 101, breaking the school whiff mark of 100 set by Ben Burch last year.

The Wildcats wound up with eight hits, with Bill Wilson, Rich Denning and Mike Giacomini providing the key blows.

Wilson, batting .167 going into the game, opened up the second inning with a 350-foot homer to tie it and added a double to go two-for-three.

Denning, the Wildcats big RBI man, socked his second homer in as many games, this one a three-run shot that made it 4-1 in the third.

Giacomini padded the margin in the fifth with a bases-loaded single, scoring two runs.

In other first-round games, Petaluma nicked injury-riddled St. Elizabeth's, 4-2, and San Lorenzo stopped El Camino, 5-1, as pitcher Steve Lawson tossed a two-hitter, striking of 11 batters, as well as blasting a home run and a run-acoring single.

He got out of a jam in the third after El Camino had the bases loaded with none out by striking out the side.

They're Still Talking About That Big Blow

There is a tendency to tack extra footage on prodigious homers. But that monstrous homer Willie McCovey hit in Philadelphia was everything said about it. It was Olympian, Ruthian, one of the longest ever hit in Connie Mack Stadium or any place else.

"I never saw a ball hit harder," said Jimmy Dykes, "and I saw Babe Ruth hit his famous one past the flagpole out there in center field."

Sitting with Dykes in the Philadelphia press box was Hank Sauer who said: "It's got to be at least 500 feet, probably 550."

Even Sauer's estimate was conservative because McCovey's rocket was rising as it passed over the scoreboard in right center. The base of the scoreboard is 400 feet from home plate. The top of the scoreboard is 64 feet from the ground.

This the trajectory of the homer, in ascending orbit as it left the stadium, definitely put it in the 500-foot plus range.

Compared To Smashes By Cepeda

"The only homers I ever saw to compare with it were a couple Orlando Cepeda hit," said Sauer, "one that hit the outer fence of Milwaukee County Stadium, the other that hit in he upper center field bleacher seats of Wrigley Field.

When McCovey was informed Wes Covington was the first slugger ever to hit a homer over the Connie Mack Stadium scoreboard, he said: "Uh, uh. He was the second. I was the first. I hit one just about the same spot in 1959 off Dick Farrell. But it started to rain and I lost that homer."

Stretch naturally was smiling throughout a post-game interview about his second long distance shot over the scoreboard until a Philly writer happened to bring up the subject of his health. "You must feel in great shape to hit a ball as hard as that," said the writer.

"As a matter of fact," said McCovey, "I've had the flu and I jammed my left shoulder in a head first slide into second base at Candlestick a couple of weeks ago. I can be sitting here and get spasms in it. I'm sure not swinging 100 percent."

Mauch Didn't Want To Talk About It

Did McCovey mean to imply that he didn't get all the ball with his mighty homer off Jim Bunning?

He chuckled.

Willie Mays, in an adjoining locker, said: "Didn't catch all of it, huh?"

Both Willies laughed.

But there was no laughter in the Philly dressing room where Gene Mauch had no desire to discuss McCovey's homer.

"If we had a six run lead I might have admired it," said the manager of the Phillies.

Juan Vs. Sutton In Dodger Opener

Since the time of Ebbets Field and the Polo Grounds, a Dodgers-Giants series always has been crucial, regardless.

Fifth-place San Francisco and sixth-place Los Angeles tangle tonight at 8 o'clock, in the first game of the first 1967 series between the teams in Candlestick Park.

The stakes aren't the same as the first or second place rank that has depended on the series' outcome since both clubs moved to the West Coast in 1958.

But the outcome is genuinely crucial for the Giants, who are 5½ games behind the National League leading Cincinnati Reds.

It's also crucial for Juan Marichal, $100,000 Giants holdout pitching star who will be seeking his eighth straight win after three straight losses.

Marichal will be opposed by Don Sutton. Sutton has only a 1-5 record and will be seeking to carry the Dodgers to a three-game winning streak.

In their opening series at Dodger Stadium, the Giants scored their first three-game sweep ever in Los Angeles. They won 5-4, 5-0, and 5-1. Marichal pitched the shutout.

The Giants have won 10 of their last 13 starts and appear on the beam after a bad start.

With Sandy Koufax and Maury Wills missing, the 1966 pennant winning Dodgers have sagged 9½ games off the league lead with a 16-21 record.

But Don Drysdale (4-2) consistently is tough for the Giants, Drysdale will be pitching tomorrow against the Giants' Gaylord Perry (2-4), bothered all season by a lack of Giant hitting support.

In the Sunday finale the Dodgers' Claude Osteen (6-3) will oppose San Francisco's Bob Bolin (3-4).

In the Giants' 11-game home stand the Dodgers will be followed by Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and New York.

Californian Is New World Boxing Champ

LOS ANGELES (AP)—California's Raul Rojas is the new world junior lightweight champion—the Philippines vigorously dissenting. He won a bloody knockout over Argentina's Vicente Derado with, presumably, 12 seconds remaining in the 15th round.

The Derado camp clamored today that Rojas butted his way to the victory in the fight that was stopped in 2:48 of the final round because of Derado's badly cut left eye. The cut required five stitches.

The match was recognized by the California Athletic Commission as a world title affair. The New York commission may or may not go along.

But in the Philippines, and elsewhere in the domain of the World Boxing Association, apparently Flash Elorde of Manila is still the ruler of the 130-pound division, which is not the most exaulted division in boxing.

There is no dispute that Rojas, 25, 130, defeated Derado, 31, 130, before some 9,000 fans at the Olympic Auditorium last night.

Referee George Latka and two judges had Rojas ahead when it was stopped. The Associated Press and most other ringside observers had it the same way.

But there were questions.

As to the butting accusation from Derado, Rojas' youngish manager, Jackie McCoy, said: "Did you ever hear a guy who was cut say it was from a punch?"

Time was another question.

The auditorium clock showed 18 seconds remaining in the last round when the referee called in the ring doctor. It stopped at 12 seconds when the examination began.

When the referee ordered a resumption, the clock abruptly turned back to 1:12.

Then it ticked off to 1:00 and stayed there until, after the good doctor's second visit to the ring—his third in three rounds—the brawl began again.

Just as soon the match was over and Rojas was pronounced the winner in 2:48 of the 15th, one fan, obviously a clock-watcher, threw a whiskey bottle—empty — into the ring. There was a shower of boos.

Final Indy Practice Runs Today

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Qualifiers for the 500-mile auto race May 30 were to take their final practice runs at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway today, with track workouts centering on carburetion tests and mechanical adjustments.

Pit crews were allocated three hours practice time after the track was cleared. Smooth and rapid refueling action in the pits is considered a key factor in the Memorial Day race.

The Yankee 300 stock car race at Indianapolis Raceway Park Saturday will provide a weekend interlude for a number of 500 qualifiers. Speedway drivers committed to the stock event over the 1.7-mile course included Mario Andretti, who paced 500 qualifying this year with a record 168.982 m.p.h., and two-time 500 winner A. J. Foyt.

Yankee 300 entrants were to practice this afternoon, with about 55 entries expected to attempt qualifications tomorrow morning. The Yankee 300 will start at 2 p.m.

The 500 field will reassemble for the annual drivers' meeting Monday to confer on race rules. The bad start last year, in which 11 cars were eliminated from the race, will be reviewed.

In Speedway-related action last night, the 100-Mile-An-Hour Club, an organization of men who have gone the complete distance in the 500-mile

Rule, Zarley Talking Of Golf Championship

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — If predictions win tournaments, Jack Rule Jr. and Kermit Zarley should finish well at the $66,000 Oklahoma City Open.

On a hot, windy day, yesterday, Rule, who won here in 1965, and Zarley, a former NCAA champion, shot three-under-par 69s to claim a one-stroke lead.

Gary Player, Miller Barber and unknown Larry Ziegler were at 70.

The tournament appeared headed toward the highest cutoff this year, with the wind pushing the projected cutoff to 151, seven stroke over par.

"I think my game has matured greatly in the last few months," Zarley said. "I'm ready to win a tournament."

Zarley missed a three-foot putt on the last hole which would have given him the lead.

Rule, whose last tour victory was here in 1965, commented, "In order to win a tournament, you have to like the course and I certainly like it here."

Rule figured the wind would make a difference.

"The wind makes it tough... you can't get the ball close to the pin on some of the so-called easier holes," Rule said.

Rule is the only former champion playing this year. Arnold Palmer is the only man to win the title twice. Last year's winner was Tony Lema, who died in a plane crash last summer.

Rule, a former croquet-style putter, putted conventionally en route to his round, which included an 20-foot birdie and a back nine of 32.

But Rule and Zarley had lots of challengers for the lead. More than 50 golfers were bunched within five strokes.

Player said he was "well pleased" with his first tourney round since the Masters early in April. He birdied the final hole.

Ziegler, whose 15 tour tourneys this year have netted only $450, had a 32 on his second nine.

Barber's round was consistent, with three birdies, one bogey and the rest pars.

Doug Sanders, limping from a bad knee caused by a blood clot, shot a one-over-par 73. Sanders said he thought he would take a couple of weeks off to try to allow the knee to get better. Otherwise, he said, it may require surgery.

U. S. Open Champion Billy Casper, considered among the favorites, blew to a three-over-par on the back nine and came in at 74.

Colonial winner Dave Stockton, Bob Charles, Bob Verwey, Wayne Yates, Bob McCallister, Babe Hiskey and Jim Colbert all shot 71s.

Cliff Richey Gets Second Chance At Davis Cup Play

Arthur Ashe, the ranking U.S. amateur and the man whom Richey replaced in singles play in the Brazilian debacle, will take on Marcelo Lara in tomorrow's second contest.

The doubles match will be played Sunday and the concluding two singles are scheduled for Monday.

Cardinal Rookie Pitches Shutout Against Braves

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dick Hughes, a "wild man in the minor leagues," has opposing hitters in the major leagues under control now after taming down himself.

The St. Louis Cardinal right-hander put down the slugging Atlanta Braves 5-0 last night with a two-hitter, made even brighter because he didn't walk a man.

"That's the first regular season game I ever went nine innings without walking anyone," said the bespectacled 29-year-old rookie. "I did go nine innings once in spring training without a walk, but I was a wild man in the minor leagues."

In the only other National League game, the Chicago Cubs used their bats to bring league-leading Cincinnati under control 5-4 on Ron Santo's tie-breaking single in the ninth inning.

Hughes, making only his fifth start in the majors after struggling nine years in the minors, brought his record to a modest 2-1, the same mark he had with the Cardinals last season when they brought him up at the end of the year.

"He never made it before because he was wild," Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst said. Hughes was walking more than four men a game in many of his minor league labors, although striking out twice that number.

IMPROVES CONTROL

But with the Cardinals in 1966, he walked only seven men in 21 innings, struck out 20, pitched a 2-0 shutout in his first start and finished with a 1.71 earned run average.

He has pitched 35 innings in 12 ames—10 in relief—this reason and walked only 14 while fanning 36 with a 2.83 era.

Hughes struck out nine Braves and only light-hitting Woody Woodward and Marty Martinez managed hits off him, in the third and eighth innings, hardly enough to offset the robust Cardinal attack.

After Ed Spiezio stole home on a double steal in the second inning, Lou Brock slammed his 10th homer in the third off loser Dick Kelley, 1-4, and Curt Flood hammered his first in the fifth after Hughes and Brock singled.

SANTO UNLOADS

Santo unloaded off reliever Ted Abernathy with one out after the Cubs loaded the bases against Gerry Arrigo on two walks and an error by Leo Cardenas.

Before that, Randy Hundley of Chicago and Tony Perez of Cincinnati traded two-run homers; Don Kessinger and Adolfo Phillips doubled home runs for the Cubs, and Jim Maloney hit a sacrifice fly and Tommy Helms a run-scoring single for the Reds.

Cal Koonce picked up his first victory with four shutout innings in relief as the surprising Cubs jumped ahead of Atlanta into fourth place.

A Tiger Bashes Second 'Slam'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There are flecks of gray in Jim Northrup's hair, but they're nothing compared to the worry lines the 27-year-old Detroit outfielder is producing in the brows of American League pitchers.

Northrup drove in five runs last night — four of them on his second grand slam home run in eight days—as the Tigers battered Boston 9-3.

Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City topped Minnesota 3-2 and Washington edged Cleveland 2-1.

The gray hair gives Northrup an elder statesman look, but he has a ready explanation for it.

RUNS IN FAMILY

"My mother and dad got gray early," he says. "I have an uncle with snow white hair. It runs in the family."

So Jim accepts his premature graying matter-of-factly . . . the same way he does his hitting.

"I think I should hit .300 up here," he says. "I've always tried to be the best. I can't do anything halfway."

His two hits against the Red Sox raised Northrup's batting average to .290. He has 21 runs batted in and three homers—two of them grand slams.

"When I try to hit home runs," he says, "I get myself messed up at the plate."

FIFTH INNING

He messed up the Red Sox in the fifth inning last night, climaxing a six-run rally with his bases-loaded shot. Al Kaline had driven in two runs with a single earlier in the inning.

The victory snapped a three-game Tiger slide and a four-game Boston winning string.

Bert Campaneris scored all the way from second on Jim Gosger's two-out infield single in the seventh inning, giving the Athletics their winning run against Minnesota.

Campaneris had singled with two out and then stole second Then he sped home as Gosger beat out a bouncer to Harmon Killebrew.

Gosger's bunt single ignited a two-run rally in the second.

CAREW HOMERS

Rick Monday followed with a walk and then Danny Cater singled for one run and a force out delivered another. Rod Carew homered for the Twins.

Jim King delivered a two-out pinch single in the ninth inning scoring Ken Harrelson with Washington's winning run against the Indians.

Harrelson had reached base on Max Alvis' error and moved up on a wild pitch. Then King, batting for Tim Cullen, singled through shortstop.

Leon Wagner accounted for Cleveland's run with a fourth inning homer, but the Senators tied the score in the sixth on singles by Hank Allen and Frank Howard and a double by Cap Peterson.

Redwood, Tam Win In Tennis

Tamalpais and Redwood high schools, two and three in the Marin County Athletic League tennis race, won season-ending matches on their home courts against lower-rung competitors yesterday.

Tamalpais swept the singles matches to nick Terra Linda, 3-2, for a 10-2 season finish and second place behind San Rafael.

Redwood topped Marin Catholic, 5-0, as the Wildcats could win only seven games. The Giants finished 8-4 for third place.

Dark Keeps Fan Away From Ump

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City had just scored the deciding run on Jim Gosger's infield single, hotly disputed by Minnesota manager Sam Mele and first base coach Jim Lemon.

"All of a sudden," Gosger related, "this guy comes running out of the stands yelling, 'He's out man' he's out man—that man is out.'"

The intruder was closing in last night on first base umpire Emmett Ashford, unaware of him, when A's Manager Alvin Dark and umpire John Flaherty grabbed him and pulled him away from the squabble.

"I just wasn't going to let him hit the umpire," said Dark of the unidentified fan.

"Umpires have a tough job. They shouldn't have to worry about people running out on the field to get them. I hate to see a fan get into trouble, too. I always wind up on the field when these things happen. Someday, I'll probably try to stop the wrong guy and get smashed."

NEW YORK (UPI) — Billy Casper led the Professional Golfers' Association money winning list in 1966 with $121,944.92. Runner-up was Jack Nicklaus, the winner in 1964 and 1965, with $111,419.16.

Smith Headlines Modesto Relays

MODESTO (AP) — Fourteen states and four continents are represented in the 26th annual California Relays tomorrow night, but above all one man—Tommy Smith—stands out.

The record-shattering San Jose State sprinter will compete in the 220 and will anchor his school mile-relay team. Smith already owns or shares the world marks in those events.

Last week, Smith blazed to world record times of 44.8 seconds and 44.5 for the 440-yard dash and 400 meters. Last year he set the world standard of 20.0 for 220 yards around a curve and 19.5 in a straightaway.

He will leave the 440 to his teammate Lee Evans and others of the nation's fastest tomorrow night at Modesto Junior College Stadium.

Past relays have proven the fast, clay composition track provides the footing for world records.

Several are under assault this time including the gruelling four-mile relay where an Oregon quartet rates a solid chance of bettering the record of 16:08.

The Ducks point to a record performance with Roscoe Divine, who has run 3:59 for the mile. Arne Kvalheim, 3:59.4, Wade Bell, 3:56.6 and Dave Wilborn 4:01.8.

San Jose State's 880-yard relay team, which this spring posted a world best of 1:22.1, isn't entered in that event this time, and will have its record challenged by Southern University, Texas Southern, Rice, Stanford, California and the Houston Striders.

Southern, Rice, Arkansas AM&N, and Prairie View appear the top challengers to San Jose in the mile relay.

Field events have attracted 17-foot-4½ pole vaulter Bob Seagren, of Southern California, 68-11¼ shot putter Neil Steinhauer of Oregon, Clarence Johnson, 7-3¼ California freshman high jumper, and broad jump king Ralph Boston, who first leaped past 27 feet in a California Relays.

Gaston Roelants, the 3,000-meter steeplechase champion from Belgium, heads the international contingent but is slated for the two-mile where Tracy Smith, indoor three-mile record holder should be the favorite.

Empty Chair At Ringside As Primo Awaits Verdict

It was a strange twist of fate that the same edition of the paper that brought news of Primo Carnera going home to Italy to await Round Fifteen and the decision of the judges should also report that Dan Parker has left an empty chair at ringside.

DAN PARKER was the Manhattan sportswriter whose stuff was so redolent of the sidewalks of New York that it never got much play out in Dubuque. To understand it, you also had to be having a sturgeon sandwich, a plate of lasagna, or corned beef and cabbage and a mug of ale. Rich in vernacular, high in comedy, Dan was at his best reporting out of what he called "Jacobs Beach" or Cauliflower Alley (also known as "Tin Ear Alley") on the gravy-on-the vest set of fight promoters and managers, cosmopolites because they had been on both sides of the Gowanus Canal.

DAN, WHO was a heavyweight in physique as well as in print, couldn't believe his good luck when Primo hove on the scene, the Matterhorn in boxing gloves. Primo's career was the world's longest-playing practical joke, and Parker happily trotted out his "ambling Alp" cognomens — the "leaning tower of Pizza," "Da-Preem." Those were the days when they thought Carnera's career was high comedy, a coast-to coast opera bouffe. He went across country knocking out broken-nosed palookas in one and two rounds in fights that had a strong odor of garlic about them.

PARKER WAS one of the first to discover that the underworld was behind the scenes, boiling the dice, putting pin-holes in the cards. Primo had been lifted out of a French traveling circus by a Parisian con artist named Leon See, but, pretty soon, his career was barnacled with police-blotter characters like Owney Madden, Big Frenchy DeMange, "Uncle" Bill Duffy and Walter (Goodtime Charley) Friedman. If these guys were around in Biblical times, the world would have suspected Goliath went in the water.

THE PRESS heaped scorn on Carnera's "knockouts." His entire early record, wrote one writer, "was one gigantic falsehood." They said he couldn't punch — but one night, while a sellout crowd screamed "fake!" he killed Ernie Schaaf in the ring.

The legend of guys in pinstripe suits sitting at ringside with submachine guns under newspapers in their laps persisted to the point where, when Carnera knocked out Jack Shakey for the championship, someone asked what the turning point of the fight was, and a newsman replied cynically "when Sharkey saw the muzzle." Nothing was ever proved. In fact, nothing was ever charged except by innuendo — which is the toughest kind of rap to beat.

THE FACTS of the matter were that Carnera was neither so bad a fighter as his critics charged, nor so good as he himself has been led to believe. At 6 feet 7 inches and 270 pounds, he had a reach wider than Rhode Island, and running into his left jab for 15 rounds was one way to remove cavities, not to say gums.

HE FOUGHT Tommy Loughran in a fight that had to be legitimate in as much as his handlers at the time were either A) in prison; B) getting shot in phone booths; C) shooting at other people in phone booths; of D) hiding out in Hot Springs. In the end, their principal victim was not the public, but the fighter. When Dan Parker last came upon Primo Carnera, the fighter was lying in a hospital bed, broke, abandoned, and suffering from varicose veins and homesickness.

PARKER'S DISILLUSION with the fight game dated from that episode and, although he sometimes wrote again with his old elan (when Tony Galento strode on the scene before his delighted eyes, he was to write the famous quatrain beginning, "Oh, Tony Galento, he trains on pimento, and gargles the ale when it's cool") his pen grew bitter, and Jacob's speech looked less funny to him as he counted the human flotsam it washed up.

It is ironic that the scorned sport of wrestling enabled Primo Carnera to return to dignity, a measure of affluence, and put his son in college where the so-called "Sweet Science" has delivered him to the bone pile.

THIS STRANGE, sordid chapter which is not Primo's shame, nor Italy's, but America's, has now come to an end in the death of the man who first reported it with laughter but finally with tears of rage scalding his throat. And in the melancholy homeward trek of the sad giant whom history has mocked, and who, it can only be hoped, will find the hills of home healing, and, if not, at least, peaceful — far from the neon and honky tonk and men whose eyes glittered under gray hats, and the memory of a blonde young giant dying at his feet, while 20,000 Americans bared their teeth and screamed "Fake!"

Raiders Sign Polonchek As New Backfield Coach

John Polonchek, a former assistant coach at Michigan State and Colorado and a pro scout in the American Football League for several seasons, has been signed as an assistant coach by the Oakland Raiders, the AFL club announced today.

"We are very pleased to get a man of Polonchek's dedication and background," said head Raiders coach John Rauch.

Polonchek will take over as offensive backfield coach, filling the vacancy created when Bill Walsh resigned two weeks ago to become head coach of the San Jose Apaches of the Continental League.

Earlier this week, the Raiders also added John Madden to their staff as linebacker coach.

Polonchek is a native of East Chicago, Ind. He played his college ball under Biggie Munn at Michigan State in the late 40's.

NEEDS LITTLE ROOM

A standard feature on the Firebird, Pontiac's new sports car, is the Space-Saver spare tire. Specially constructed of nylon, it is deflated until needed and provides approximately three cubic feet of added usable luggage space. The space saver pops out to usable size when inflated with an easy-to-use can of Freon issued with the tire. When deflated it automatically returns to a collapsed position. It was first developed by the B. F. Goodrich Co. for supersonic jet aircraft where space and weight are at a premium.

Pre-Holiday Trading Irregularly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed irregularly lower today in moderate pre-weekend trading.

Here was the picture near the close:

Special situations enlivened the list.

Chicago & North Western Railway ran up about 10 points on news of agreement on terms whereby C&NW would acquire Essex Wire which sank 2 points as it paced the list on volume.

Worthington spurted more than 3 points on word of the proposed merger with Studebaker which fell more than a point.

Lionel, after early strength on news the company had acquired the American Flyer train line from A. C. Gilbert Co., eased on profit taking.

United Aircraft pared a fraction from a 2-point gain on news of a $59.8 million Air Force order.

Du Pont and Xerox dropped about 2 points each, IBM 3, Pan American and Eastern Airlines a point or so.

Continued caution over the Middle East crisis and typical wariness in advance of what will be a long Memorial Day weekend for some people combined to dampen the market.

Prices were mostly lower on the American Stock Exchange.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Banking Industry Eying Discrimination In Jobs

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Less than one year after reporting that 45 of the nation's 50 largest commercial banks had no Jewish senior officers, the American Jewish Committee claims that banks now are taking remedial measures.

At its annual meeting here, the AJC reported the American Bankers Association already has taken several steps against the "pattern of exclusion."

Among the steps:

—Distribution by the ABA of a career brochure on banking to campus Hillel groups. Hillel is a foundation engaged in Jewish religious and cultural programs.

—Addition of studies on discrimination and minority employment problems to the curriculum of Stonier Graduate School of Banking, conducted by the ABA at Rutgers University.

—Plans for a workshop on discrimination to be included at the ABA annual convention in September.

The ABA verifies that it is working on the problem, but it doesn't concede that conscious discrimination created it.

As to the cause, Dr. Charles Walker, executive vice president of ABA, says, "I frankly don't know. Some people would argue that there was conscious discrimination. But what we do know in no way indicates the cause."

The causes, the AJC maintains, range from open discrimination to more subtle—often unintentional—stereotyped thinking.

The committee's report states:

"Thus, the absence of Jews from bank management was most frequently attributed to a supposed lack of interest in jobs of this kind, which in turn was thought to stem from such alleged qualities as 'Jewish aggressiveness.' "

These were some of the reasons given by bankers, as quoted by the AJC:

—Jews are inclined toward wheeling and dealing, and impatient with the slow advancement of the typical banking career.

—The slow progress of banking does not appeal to people who are aggressive.

—Banking does not appeal to Jews because they are too anxious to get ahead and make substantial money.

The real reasons, the AJC maintains, are bias, false assumptions about the ability of Jews to become part of a team, misconceptions about career goals of Jews—they are supposedly too money-oriented and impatient.

In addition, the AJC maintains, young Jewish college graduates are discouraged from finding banking jobs because of the obvious absence of success by previous candidates and employees. And the bank's recruiter, convinced that the bank's antibias edicts are simply for show, sometimes believes Jews are unwelcome.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Never Switch Solely To Get Some Action

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I often wonder if I am doing the right thing by holding onto my stocks. So many of my friends are constantly switching. Do you think I should change any of the enclosed list?" L. S.

A. Looking over your holdings, I believe your policy is greatly to be preferred to that of your friends. Your issues for the most part seem well selected with generally favorable prospects. Switching solely for the sake of getting some action builds up commission costs and quite frequently substitites stocks with a poorer outlook. The only reason fo making changes would be to improve your potential for appreciation and in this respect you seem to be well situated.

I particularly like, among your lesser-known holdings, Tally Corp. and Talley Industries. The first is a Seattle company in the data processing business and the latter makes rocket propellants in Arizona. Both are well established in strong growth areas and I would hold them. Cessna is your only stock which I would question. There has been a profits squeeze here and I advise you to switch this issue into Cenco Instruments.

Q. "I'm aged 62 with an annual income of $5,400. I do not own property and have no investments, only a savings account of $4,000. Would I be wise to invest some of this? I would appreciate any help you can give me." H. B.

A. I am only too pleased to offer it. You seem well situated in every respect but one. Your current financial position does not protect you against inflation which will probably lower the purchasing power of your dollars over the years ahead. I would like to see you own property or some good stocks, both of which offer a measure of long-term defense against rising costs. However, your savings seem no more than adequate for future contingencies and I don't believe that you are now in a position to lower your cash reserves.
